A HISTORY OF THE CLEVELAND INDIANS

by Scott Lax

INTRODUCTION: A DEEP AND RICH HISTORY

Cleveland's baseball teams have played an important role in the history of an ancient game that was re-invented and standardized in the United States in the first half of the 19th Century. Baseball as a Cleveland tradition dates back to the middle of the 19th century. The year 2013 marks the 145th year of professional baseball in Cleveland, Ohio.

Now in its 112th season, the Cleveland Indians are one of only four Charter American League clubs – along with Chicago, Boston and Detroit – to play continuously in one city.

Cy Young

Cleveland baseball clubs have seen some of the greatest ballplayers to ever play the game. Cleveland teams have experienced breathtaking moments, glorious highs and heartbreaking lows. And perhaps just as importantly, countless fans have experienced thousands of hours of satisfying innings under spring, summer and autumn skies. One of America's greatest poets, Walt Whitman, said, "I see great things in baseball. It's our game – the American game." How amazing that Cleveland and its people were part of that greatness for more than twenty years of Walt Whitman's life.

Whatever the name of the Cleveland organization, and no matter where the games were played, the men who have played baseball, as well as owners, front office and staff, coaches, media and fans – all are part of the rich and exciting history of the Indians.

Professional baseball has deep roots in Cleveland. The game has been and remains part of the fabric of this great American city and region.

CLEVELAND BASEBALL BEFORE THE INDIANS

The American sport that came into existence in the first half of the 1800's officially began in Cleveland on June 2, 1869, with a match-up between the Cleveland Forest Citys – which represented Cleveland in baseball's first professional league – and the Cincinnati Red Stockings. The Forest Citys played in the National Association until 1871, and then disbanded in 1872.

After seven years, Cleveland returned to pro baseball in 1879, in the three-year-old National League. In 1885, after six seasons, Cleveland dropped out of the National League. Then, in November 1886, Cleveland was admitted to the major league American Association, replacing Pittsburgh's team, which had moved to the National League. After only two seasons in its new league, Cleveland again returned to the National League in 1889.

By 1890, Cleveland was the tenth largest city in the country, and one of the most advanced. Among other accomplishments, individuals in Cleveland pioneered streetlights, and an indoor shopping center, still known the Arcade. It also had two major league teams – one in the National League, and another in the new Players' League – which folded after the that season. The American Association folded, too, all of which gave the National League a major league baseball monopoly.

From 1891 through 1899, Cleveland baseball had mixed success during its time in the National League. Led by Hall of Fame pitcher and future legend, Cy Young, on May 1, 1891, the Cleveland Spiders began playing at the then-new League Park, located at the corner of E. 66th St. and Lexington Avenue.

Cleveland never led the National League in wins, but the Spiders nevertheless earned three trips to the league's championship series. Cleveland lost the championship series to Boston in 1892, but defeated Boston to win the Temple Cup championship in 1895. Cleveland lost the Temple cup rematch to Boston in 1896.

In 1897, Louis Sockalexis, a gifted outfielder and Native American from the Penobscot tribe, joined the Cleveland Spiders. Sockalexis played 94 games for the Spiders, from 1897 through 1899. Those club's experienced some brutal losing seasons. When club owner Frank DeHaas Robison, who also owned the N.L.'s St. Louis franchise – a conflict of interest not permitted under current rules – sent Cleveland's best players to St. Louis, the team then endured the worst season in professional baseball history, with a record of 20-134.

The bad news was that Cleveland was dropped from the National League. The good news was that a door was opened for a new franchise in a new league.

With the dawn of a new century, the Cleveland of 1900 was an established major league city. This was ideal for the designs of a man named Ban Johnson, who turned his minor league Western League into major league competition for the National League. Financed by Clevelander Charles Somers, Johnson's minor league Western League became the major league American League after a year of minor league play. Beginning in 1901, the Spiders went head-to-head with the National League in 1901. Cleveland's new franchise played at Cleveland's established baseball home, League Park.

Cleveland made history when the first American League game was played between the Chicago White Stockings (now the White Sox) and the Cleveland Blues on April 24, 1901. Nature helped; all the other American League games were rained out that day. Chicago won the game, 8-2.

Addie Joss

Nap Lajoie

After its inaugural season, Cleveland acquired the future Hall-of-Famer and rival of Ty Cobb, Napoleon Lajoie, from Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, who sent Lajoie to Cleveland to pump up the new league. In addition, Cleveland acquired another future Hall-of-Famer in rookie pitcher Addie Joss.

More name changes came about during the first decade of the 20th Century. The team became the Blues (or "Bluebirds") in 1901, and then changed its name to the Broncos in 1902. In honor of their great player-manager, Lajoie, the team became the Cleveland Naps in 1903.

Now the team had a stellar ballpark, strong ownership, and future Hall of Fame players in Lajoie, Joss and outfielder Elmer Flick. Under player-manager Lajoie, Cleveland peaked in 1908 with a pennant race with Chicago and Detroit.

Cleveland had other solid players: third baseman Bill Bradley, first basemen George Sovall, and shortstop Terry Turner. "Addie" Joss, who was born in Toledo, Ohio, pitched a perfect game for Cleveland – only the second perfect game in history, with Cy Young having pitched the first – but the Naps finished second to the Detroit Tigers.

The next year, Lajoie had had enough of doing double-duty as a player-manager and returned to player-only status. The result was that he upped his batting average and engaged Ty Cobb in a famous batting race in 1910, one that historians haven't yet settled as to the winner.

Another player destined for fame and infamy, "Shoeless Joe" Jackson came to Cleveland from Connie Mack's Athletics. The legendary outfielder would surpass Lajoie as Cleveland's all-time batting leader, but couldn't bring the team a title.

Joe Jackson

In 1911, Addie Joss died suddenly of spinal meningitis at the age of 31. The team held a benefit game to raise money for Joss's survivors on July 24, 1911 at League Park. The charity game also became the forerunner of today's All-Star Game. Featuring legends and future Hall-of-Famers Ty Cobb (wearing a Cleveland uniform because he forgot his Detroit uniform), Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins, Frank "Home Run" Baker, Sam Crawford, Bobby Wallace and Walter Johnson, as well as Cleveland players Lajoie and Cy Young, who had returned to Cleveland in 1909 to finish a career that had begun with the Cleveland Spiders. Young was destined for history, becoming the namesake of the ultimate award for a MLB pitcher, and by winning 511 wins during his 22- year career.

Cleveland tried to build another contender with Lajoie, Jackson, shortstop Ray Chapman, catcher Steve O'Neill, and pitchers Cy Falkenberg and Vean Gregg. But the upstart Federal League blocked Cleveland's rebuilding efforts, as they raided both American League and National League Teams, and they hit Cleveland particularly hard by grabbing Falkenberg.

Consequently, the Cleveland Naps lost a franchise record 102 games in 1914. To make matters worse, attendance sank to disastrous lows. The era of Lajoie came to a close, and with his departure, following the 1914 season the franchise decided it was time for a name change.

On January 17, 1915, The Plain Dealer reported, "President Somers invited the Cleveland baseball writers to make the selection. The title of Indians was their choice, it having been one of the names applied to the old National League club of Cleveland many years ago."

New name or not, Somers needed to raise money for his team. He released Lajoie and traded Joe Jackson to Chicago for three players and much needed cash. It wasn't enough to keep his ownership feasible, however.

Enter Iowa-born Jim "Sunny" Dunn, who helped finance a deal that brought the great centerfielder Tris Speaker – who had been embroiled in a contract dispute with the Boston Red Sox – to Cleveland.

Dunn was now owner of the Cleveland Indians. Led by Speaker and manager Lee Fohl, the Indians narrowly missed winning the pennant in 1918. In 1919, Dunn fired Fohl and made Speaker player-manager. The Indians finished a close second yet again.

Tris Speaker

By 1920, Speaker had a formidable team that led the American League in runs scored, doubles, triples, RBIs, walks and a team .303 batting average. Speaker, outfielder Elmer Smith, and third baseman Larry Gardener each drove in more than 100 runs. Jim Bagby led the American League in wins with a club record 31, winning percentage, games, starts, complete games and innings pitched. Stan Coveleski became the first of many Indians pitchers to lead the American League in strikeouts. Coveleski won 24 games, plus three more in the World Series. Former Yankee pitching ace Ray Caldwell added 20 victories.

TRAGEDY AND TRIUMPH FOR THE TRIBE

Nothing could prepare the talented and revived Cleveland Indians for what would be the first tragic death to affect the team. Star shortstop Ray Chapman was struck in the head by a pitch that was thrown by Yankees pitcher Carl Mayes at the Polo Grounds in New York. He died twenty-one hours later. Chapman has a legacy beyond his on-field excellence, for he remains the only player in major league history to die from being hit by a pitch. His death led to numerous changes to the game – changing out dirty baseballs to keep them from being difficult to see, and eventually the batting helmet, which has likely saved numerous lives.

A rookie, Joe Sewell, replaced Chapman and began his own stellar Hall-of-Fame career. Late season call-up Duster Mails pitched a perfect 7-0, and helped the Indians hold off the Yankees and Chicago White Sox.

The Indians won the pennant, and went on to play the World Series against the Brooklyn Dodgers in a history-laden, nine-game series. Elmer Smith hit the first grand slam in Series history, and Jim Bagby was the first pitcher to hit a home run in the World Series. Second baseman Bill Wambsganss pulled off the first and only triple play in World Series history. All of those feats were accomplished in the fifth game of the nine-game series, on October 10, 1920, at Cleveland's League Park.

On the strength of those still-amazing feats, among other great plays, The Cleveland Indians won the 1920 World Series.

Stan Coveleski

The Speaker/Dunn era fielded two more contending teams, in 1921 and 1926, but fell short of winning the World Series. Still, there were significant highlights: George Uhle, a relief pitcher in 1920, emerged as the Indians ace and led the American League in wins in 1923 and 1926. Uhle joined Speaker and Sewell as cornerstones of the 1920's Tribe. "The Grey Eagle" – Tris Speaker – resigned following the 1926 season because of a gambling scandal. On January 27 of the next year, Speaker, along with Ty Cobb, was cleared of gambling charges. Though Sunny Dunn, through his estate, maintained ownership of the Indians through the 1927 season, on November 27, the team was sold to a syndicate led by John Sherwin and Alva Bradley.

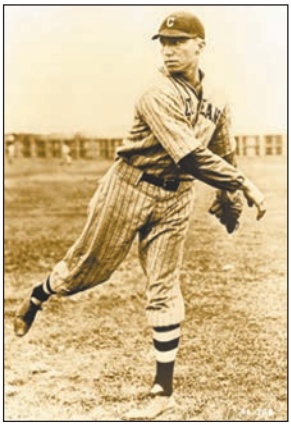
THE 1930s and 1940s: A NEW ERA OF GREATNESS

The decades of the 1930s and 1940s that followed the Speaker/Dunn era brought more great baseball to a city that was making history in other ways. Clevelander Jesse Owens won four gold medals at the Berlin Olympics in 1936, and in so doing humiliated Hitler and his twisted theory of racial supremacy. The new Cleveland Browns football team won all four All-American Football Conference titles between 1946 and 1949.

A golden era for the Indians was beginning, too. This period saw future baseball legends Earl Averill, Mel Harder Bob Feller and Lou Boudreau – the first four Indians to have their uniform numbers retired – as well as a new stadium and new ownership.

Ray Chapman's Grave

On July 31, 1932, the Indians began playing at the huge new Cleveland Municipal Stadium. The first game in its new home saw was a pitchers' battle, with Philadelphia's Lefty Grove edging Harder 1-0 in front of more than 80,000 fans. The grand stadium fueled grand dreams for the team and its fans, but no championship under the Bradley ownership.



Mel Harder

The high cost of the stadium forced the club back to League Park from 1933 to 1936, and for all but Sunday and holiday games beginning in 1937. League Park had no lights, so the Indians began playing night games at the new stadium. It was an auspicious start to night games, as on June 27, 1939, Bob Feller threw a one-hitter against the Detroit Tigers.

Other highlights of the Bradley ownership included Wes Ferrell's four straight 20-win seasons, Lew Fonseca's 1929 batting title, the batting heroics of Hal Trotsky as well as Cleveland's sandlot-star-turned-pro, Joe Vosmik. North Carolina native Johnny Allen, who went from bellhop to New York Yankees pitcher, had a 15-game winning streak in 1937 with the Indians, as well as being part of one of baseball's wackier incidents. On June 7, 1938, umpire Bill McGowan ordered him off the mound for wearing a uniform with a tattered sleeve. It worked out pretty well for Allen, whose $250 fine was repaid to the pitcher by owner Bradley. The uniform went on display at Higbee's department story in Cleveland, and eventually at the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York.

Five managers served the Bradley ownership, including Hall of Fame pitcher Walter Johnson and former Indians players Roger Peckinpaugh and Steve O'Neill (no relation to future Indians owner Francis J. "Steve" O'Neill). Ossie Vitt, fresh off a 109-win season as manager of the International League Newark Bears in 1937, replaced O'Neill. Despite an abrasive style, Vitt guided the Indians back to the top of the American League.

Rookies Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack gave the 1940 Indians legitimate pennant hopes. In an auspicious start to the season, Bob Feller pitched a no-hitter against the White Sox in Chicago. Nonetheless, the team mutinied against Manager Vitt by going to Bradley to request his firing.

Bradley's refusal to fire Vitt became national news, as the Cleveland ballplayers were branded "The Crybabies." By the end of the season, the Indians finished a game behind the Tigers, and Vitt was subsequently fired.

Still, the near miss in 1940 didn't diminish the brilliant pitching of right-handed fast baller Bob Feller, who would earn the nicknames "Rapid Robert" and "Bullet Bob." That year he won 27 games, a win record not equaled by any Indians pitcher since. From his arrival in Cleveland in 1936 as the youngest player to ever wear an Indians uniform at seventeen years old, to his enlistment in the U.S. Navy in 1941, Feller was the main focus of the attention of fans and media in Cleveland. Signed by super scout and former major league pitcher Cy Slapnicka, Feller made history numerous times for the Indians. Among his fourteen regular season appearances in 1936 was a 15-strikeout effort against the St. Louis Browns in his first major league start. He also posted 17 strikeouts that year against the Athletics.

During his first six seasons, Feller won 107 games and led the American League in strikeouts four consecutive years from 1938 through 1941. Rapid Robert Feller had a record-setting 18-strikeout game against Detroit on October 2, 1938. Just as Lou Boudreau became player-manager for the Indians at the young age of 24, Feller left for his military duty.

Earl Averill

Boudreau stepped in and stepped up, winning the American League batting title in 1944. (He would also lead all major league players with 1,578 hits during the 1940s.) Despite his efforts, the Indians never seriously competed during the war years.

After the war was over, Feller returned to a hero's welcome in 1945, as well as returning to the forefront of big league pitchers in 1946, when he led the majors with 26 wins and a club record of 348 strikeouts.

Bob Feller and Manager Steve O'Neill

VEECK ERA BRINGS A SERIES TITLE TO CLEVELAND

The end of the war signaled a new and progressive era in America. Bill Veeck, the son of a Chicago sportswriter, may have been the most creative club owners in baseball history. (Veeck also owned the St. Louis Browns and the Chicago White Sox in his career.) In 1946, Veeck put the Indians in Cleveland Municipal Stadium on a full-time basis starting with the 1947 season. He had solid baseball judgment, and built a pennant contender. Veeck signed African-American player Larry Doby in 1947, only eleven weeks after Jackie Robinson broke the color barrier by signing with the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League. Veeck also signed 42-year-old Satchel Paige. He kept Boudreau as player-manager.

Walter Johnson addresses the team.

In 1948, the Indians led the American League in batting average, ERA, and fielding average. Boudreau won the MVP award, and rookie sensation Gene Bearden joined infielder/outfielder-turned pitcher Bob Lemon as a 20-game winner, while Feller won 19 games.

Ken Keltner, Joe Gordon and Eddie Robinson joined Boudreau to form a great infield, with Jim Hegan as an outstanding catcher. The Indians took the American League Pennant in a sizzling race capped by a historic one-game playoff against he Red Sox at Fenway Park in Boston. The Indians then went on to defeat the Boston Braves in six games to win the Series.

In short, the 1948 World Series Champion Cleveland Indians were Bill Veeck's masterpiece. Leaving at the top, but not without personal and financial pressures helping to motivate his departure, Veeck moved on in 1949.

MORE EXCELLENCE IN THE AL LOPEZ ERA

Five-time All-Star, Hall-of-Famer, and legendary slugger Hank Greenberg became the Indians general manager in 1949. After a disappointing fourth-place finish in 1950, Greenberg fired Lou Boudreau, replacing him with Al Lopez. Lopez gained the nickname "El Señor," owing to his Hispanic heritage and refined manner. Beginning in 1951, Lopez began his stellar career as a manager.

Also of note in 1951, the American League celebrated its 50th anniversary, and the Indians established a team Hall of Fame. Fan balloting named the formidable line-up. The first ten inductees were Hal Trotsky (1B), Nap Lajoie (2B), Joe Sewell (SS), Ken Keltner (3B), Tris Speaker (OF), Joe Jackson (OF), Steve O'Neill (C), Cy Young (P), and Mel Harder (P).

Outstanding pitching dominated the Lopez-managed Indians. Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia anchored a rotation that helped the Tribe finish no lower than second place. The powerful Cleveland offense, led by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Luke Easter actually out-hit the "Bronx Bombers" New York Yankees throughout the 1950s, leading the American League in home runs six times. The Indians won their third pennant in club history with an American League record 111 wins in 1954. In keeping with New York teams being a thorn in the Indians' side, the New York Giants won the 1954 World Series in a shocking four-game sweep.

The powerhouse Indians were aging by the mid-50s, but young talents such as 1955 Rookie-of-the-Year pitcher Herb Score, as well as Rocky Colavito, Roger Maris, Jim Perry and Jim Grant bolstered the team. Herb Score was struck by a line drive hit by New York's Gil McDougald in 1957, but regained his 20-20 vision and returned late in the 1958 season. Hampered by other injuries to his throwing arm, Score was traded after the 1959 season, but remains one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

TOUGHER TIMES FOR THE TRIBE

Kerby Farrell managed the Tribe for a single season in 1957. Al Rosen had retired after the previous season and the Indians slid to the back of the American League. Attendance sunk, as well.

Bill Veeck and Larry Doby

A new management team of William R. Daley as president and Frank Lane as general manager were in place in 1958. Lane made history, but not in a positive way: known as "Trader Lane," the GM made sixty separate deals between December 2, 1957 and December 15, 1959. He sent eventual home run record-setter, Roger Maris, to the Kansas City Athletics. Yet the Tribe contended in 1959, finishing a close second to the Chicago White Sox. The 1959 Indians led the American League in home runs, runs scored, batting average and slugging percentage. Home attendance was fourth in the majors, and up by 125 percent.

Most notorious of all – and devastating to many Cleveland fans – Trader Lane sent Tribe hero Rocky Colavito to Detroit in exchange for American League batting champ Harvey Kuenn on April 16, 1960. "The Rock" had been co-home run champion in 1959, and hit 129 homers over four seasons, including four during a game in Baltimore on June 20, 1959. Colavito was also known as the most charismatic Indian of his era.

After the brief and controversial tenure of Frank Lane, the Indians hired Gabe Paul. Paul wore many hats at different times with the Tribe, as GM, part owner, and CEO for the club between 1961 and 1973, and 1978 and 1984.

Tiant's standout 1968 season, with 21 wins and a league-leading ERA of 1.60, was unfortunately followed by arm problems and sudden departure in 1969 to the Minnesota Twins.

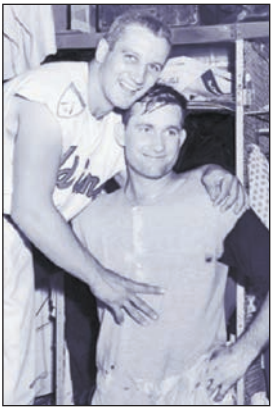
Herb Score

Another highlight was pitcher "Sudden" Sam McDowell, a four-time strikeout leader during the '60s. In 1965, McDowell pitched his way to a league-low 2.18 ERA, league-high 325 strikeouts – the most ever by a Tribe lefty – and two consecutive one-hitters.

THE 1960s and 1970s: A MIXED BAG FOR THE INDIANS

The entire country was undergoing change and turmoil during the '60s and '70s. President Kennedy and his brother, Senator Robert , were assassinated, along with civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. As well, the Vietnam War challenged the nation, and a counter-culture rose up. Many cities, including Cleveland, were losing population, and in general decline.

The Indians were something of a barometer of the era, as the team suffered economically during the two decades. Seven ownership changes in 25 years – as many as occurred in the first 60 years of the franchise – and the team and the fans endured constant rumors that it would relocate to another city.



Al Rosen and Bob Lemon

For all his brilliance, including a 20-win season in 1970, McDowell's inconsistency mirrored that of the team's. Ken Harrelson, a colorful player and 1968 American League RBI champion, was acquired amid much fanfare in 1969, but broke his leg in 1970 and retired. Catcher Ray Fosse seemed destined for stardom until a memorable home plate collision with Pete Rose at he end of the 1970 All-Star Game. An aggressive player, Fosse suffered numerous injuries, and was traded to the Oakland Athletics in 1973.

Lack of stability and problems with finances led the Indians to place an emphasis on immediate benefits over a long-range plan for success. This led to memorable individual achievements, but little team accolades.

Teams of 1962, 1965 and 1968 were perhaps a player away from serious pennant contention. The 1968 Indians, owned by Vernon Stouffer, managed by Alvin Dark and led by pitcher Luis Tiant, was the only Tribe team from 1960 through 1993 to finish as high as third place. Yet the 1962 and 1965 teams battled for first place beyond mid-season before fading by September.

In a move aimed as much at the dwindling box office as the standings, Rocky Colavito was reacquired following the 1964 season. His return sparked a better season and attendance, but getting Rocky back in Cleveland came at a high cost: future stars Tommy John and Tommie Agee.

Rocky Colavito and Frank Lane

Gabe Paul and Phil Seghi

In 1972, Sam McDowell was traded to San Francisco for Gaylord Perry and Frank McDuffy. In his first year with the Tribe, Perry won the Cy Young Award by pitching a spectacular 24-win season. Perry worked for a new Tribe management that included owner Nick Mileti and manager Ken Aspromonte. When GM Gabe Paul left Cleveland to run the Yankees organization, Phil Seghi became the general manager of the Indians in 1973.

Gaylord Perry had a stellar first half in 1974, pitching his way to a 15-game win streak, which tied Johnny Allen's club record. The '74 Indians, managed by Aspromonte and feature players Buddy Bell, George Hendrick and Charlie Spikes along with Perry, were only a half game out of first place on July 4 and in second place as late as August 22, before the team ended the season in fourth place.

An unfortunate "ten-cent beer night" at Municipal Stadium on June 4, 1974, set off a 9th-inning riot that resulted in a Tribe forfeit.

The Indians would follow this mini-disaster with one of its greatest accomplishments as a leader in diversity in professional sports.

Sam McDowell

Gaylord and Jim Perry

On October 3, 1974, Executive Vice President of the Indians Ted Bonda introduced Frank Robinson as the league's first African-American manager. A player-manager, Robinson's first at-bat, at Opening Day in 1975, was a home run shot. Indians fans would later vote that at-bat as the most memorable moment in team history.

Robinson's 1976 Indians were the first with a winning record since 1968. However a slow start in 1977 turned Robinson into yet another short-lived Tribe skipper. From the departure of Al Lopez to the arrival of Mike Hargrove, a period from 1957 to 1991, no Tribe manager lasted four full seasons.

In one of the most productive trades the Indians ever made, Phil Seghi obtained first baseman/designated hitter Andre Thornton from the Montreal Expos for pitcher Jackie Brown. Thornton played for the Tribe for ten years, from 1977 through 1987.

Thornton battled injuries and dealt with the tragedy of losing his wife and daughter in an automobile accident. Through it all, Andre Thornton became one of the Cleveland's all-time leading home run hitters, a two time all-star. He won other awards, and became one of Cleveland's most respected players.

Less successful for the Tribe was its first attempt at free agency. In 1976, the Indians signed pitcher Wayne Garland to a 10-year, $2.3 million contract. But Garland suffered an arm injury and won just 55 games in five seasons with Cleveland.

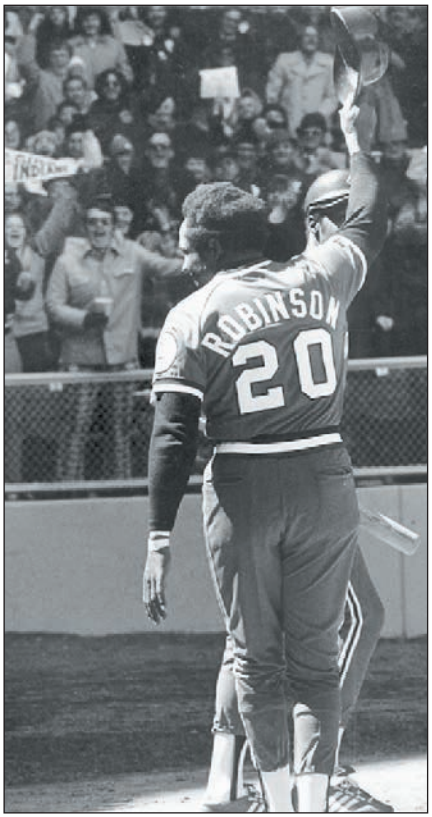
In 1978, F.J. "Steve" O'Neill rescued the financially troubled Cleveland. O'Neill had been a minority shareholder in the club before departing, with Gabe Paul, to take an ownership in the Yankees in 1973. O'Neill brought Paul back to Cleveland as CEO of the Indians.

THE 1980s and 1990s – MORE TRAGEDY FOR THE TRIBE, BUT WINNING RETURNS TO THE "COMEBACK CITY" IN THE JOHN HART-MIKE HARGROVE ERA

As the new decade of the '80's dawned in Cleveland, rookie sensation Joe Charboneau, who was brought up from the minors to sub for injured Andre Thornton, seemed to be yet another player destined for stardom. Despite a penchant for off-field hijinks and controversy, Joe won Rookie of the Year in 1980. A back injury cut his promising career with the Tribe short, however, and by 1981 "Super Joe" was back in the minors.

On May 15, 1981, Tribe pitcher Len Barker pitched the tenth perfect game in baseball history. In a strike-torn season, it gave Cleveland fans hope.

More fireworks were to come in 1981, when Cleveland hosted the 1981 All-Star Game that signaled the end of the 50-day long players' strike. Cleveland set its third All-Star Game Attendance record with a crowd of 72,086 at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.



Frank Robinson

Andre Thornton

Despite an effective pitching staff led by Barker, newcomer Bert Blyleven, John Denny, Rick Waits and Garland, the Indians finished just over .500 and in sixth place.

Still, the All-Star Game was a harbinger of the City of Cleveland was making a comeback. By 1986, the Indians were back, too, with one of the best offenses in baseball. The Tribe led the American League in runs and attracted the highest attendance for the first time since 1959. Along with Andre Thornton, who made his own courageous comeback in 1982 after missing all the 1980 and most of the 1981 seasons, leading the Indians offense were Joe Carter, Cory Snyder, Brook Jacoby, Brett Butler and Julio Franco. The Tribe improved by 24 games for its most wins since 1968.

Fans in Cleveland had long proved that they would support an exciting and winning ball club. The estate of Steve O'Neill sold the team to brothers Richard and David Jacobs in 1986, and a rebuilding process began. The next year was a tough one, as the team lost 101 games.

The Jacobs brothers hired Indians Farm Director Hank Peters to begin their complete rebuilding process. The new leadership emphasized player development. As well, Dick Jacobs, a prominent Cleveland civic leader and businessman, made it clear that the team needed a new ballpark as part of that rebuilding. Voters had defeated a ballot issue in 1984 to create a new, domed stadium. Six years later, in a much-contested ballot issue, Cuyahoga County voters narrowly approved a tax on alcohol and cigarettes to fund what was known as the Gateway complex – a new arena for the Cleveland Cavaliers, and a ballpark for the Indians right next door.

But before that would happen, the organization's "Blueprint for Success" had to take on one of the weakest farm systems in baseball. Beginning with former Baltimore GM Hank Peters, who became president of the Cleveland Indians in 1987, more talent came from Baltimore as John Hart was groomed as a successor to Peters and Dan O'Dowd to run the farm system. As a result, in 1992 the Indians were named baseball's "Organization of the Year," by Baseball America, and there was little doubt that the Tribe was a team with a bright future.

The new management team wisely gained control over the organization's costs by extending long-term contracts to young players. They also aggressively traded for excellent talent: Sandy Alomar, Jr., and Carlos Baerga arrived from San Diego in exchange for Joe Carter. Alomar, Jr. became Cleveland's fourth Rookie of the Year. Though the Tribe still struggled – in 1991 it recorded 105 losses – progress was being made, as the improved farm system began to produce talent that would prove to make a huge difference.

On March 22, 1993, another horrible tragedy struck the Indians. Two Indians players, Steve Olin and Tim Crews were killed, and a third, Bob Ojeda was seriously injured in a boating accident on Little Lake Nellie in Clermont, Florida.

Brett Butler and Joe Carter

Led by manager Mike Hargrove, who managed from 1991-1999, the Indians battled through an emotional final season in Cleveland Municipal Stadium. Attendance that year topped two million fans for the first time since 1949, during the final series, when Cleveland hosted old rivals, the Chicago White Sox.

The next year, Cleveland's new park, with its scenic views and state-of-the-art facilities, became a symbol of the Indians oncoming success in the 1990s. The Tribe would be a baseball force again. The organization and the new ballpark attracted stellar free agents, both ex-Orioles. Pitcher Dennis Martinez and first baseman Eddie Murray were accustomed to winning, and the veterans joined an emerging young powerhouse lineup that featured Alomar, Jr., Baerga, Kenny Lofton – who was obtained by Hart from Houston in a savvy 1991 trade. They joined Cleveland farm players Albert Belle, Jim Thome, Manny Ramirez and pitcher Charles Nagy, who were stars in the making.

The Tribe slugged its way into a first-place battle with the White Sox in the new American League Central Division, only to have the excitement ended by a players strike on August 12. The strike wiped out the promising season, as well as post-season play. Indians fans, who had waited a long time, were as disappointed as the players and front office at a dream postponed.

The next year, after another postponement of 18 games, the 1995 season began when owners and players settled the strike. But the fans hopes would be rewarded: The Cleveland Indians had put together one of the greatest seasons in baseball history, winning the club's first American League championship since 1954 by crushing the rest of the division with a lead of 30 games. Only the 1954 Indians had won more games and had a higher winner percentage than the '95 team.

An explosive offense was aided by outstanding pitching, bolstered by the acquisition of pitching ace Orel Hershiser. For the first time since 1968, Cleveland pitching led the American League in ERA. Belle became the first player ever to combine 50 doubles and 50 home runs in the same season, and the first to hit 100 extra-base hits in one season since Stan Musial in 1948. Jose Mesa, another former Oriole acquired by Hart in '92 in exchange for a minor leaguer, was forced into the closer role. He responded with a near-perfect 46 saves – a club record – in 48 opportunities.

Dick Jacobs

Cleveland swept Boston in the American League Division Series and beat Seattle in the American League Championship Series. But the overpowering pitching of the Atlanta Braves kept the Indians from completing its dream season, as Atlanta beat the Tribe in six games.

Fans in Cleveland came through in their support for the surging Tribe and sold out the entire 1996 season prior to opening game. Despite disappointing seasons from expected pitching ace Jack McDowell, the Indians in turn proved the 1995 season was no fluke as they won 99 games – the best in the majors. They again led the American League in batting average and ERA as they won another A.L. Central Championship. Belle and Lofton became the club's all-time leaders in home runs and stolen bases, respectively. But the Orioles shocked the Tribe in the postseason by sweeping them in four games.

In 1997, Hart and the Tribe retooled after losing Belle to the White Sox in free agency. The team acquired slugger Matt Williams through a trade, and in a daring deal right before

Carlos Baerga

Steve Olin

Opening Day, sent Lofton to the Braves and brought outfielders Marquis Grissom and David Justice to Cleveland. The Tribe battled to its third-straight division title with a record of 86-75.

Sandy Alomar, Jr. had a storybook season, and led Cleveland through one of the most exciting months in its history. Thrilling victories over the Yankees in five games and the Orioles in six put Cleveland back in the World Series for the second time in three years.

The Indians and Florida Marlins went down to the wire, taking the Series to seven games. The seventh game went into extra innings. The final, 11th inning was perhaps the most gripping inning in Indians history and the one-run loss the most heartbreaking.

One of the phenomenal things about Cleveland's success in 1997, however, was that twelve of the players on the roster had not been with the team in 1996 Division Series. Unlikely October '97 heroes included rookie pitcher Jaret Wright, pitcher Chad Ogea and infielder Tony Fernandez.

By 1998, Cleveland was clearly the dominant team in the American League Central Division. A fourth-straight Division crown seemed to be a lock. Lofton was back with the team, reacquired as a free agent, and slugger Travis Fryman replaced Williams as Cleveland and Arizona swapped third basemen.

The Indians won the Central with a record of 89-73, then beat the Red Sox to earn a third ALCS berth in four years. Cleveland became the only team to win any postseason games from the record setting 1998 Yankees in the ALCS. That fact was little consolation, though, as the Yanks beat the Tribe in six games.

Dennis Martinez and Orel Hershiser

The 1999 Indians delivered an even better regular season with a 97-65 record and fifth-straight American League Central Division Title. (Only two other teams have won as many as five straight division titles.)

Led by Manny Ramirez and Roberto Alomar – Sandy's brother, and another ex-Oriole signed as a free agent – Cleveland set a team record with 1,009 runs scored, only the seventh team in MLB history to score 1,000 or more runs in a single season.

Ramirez drove in 165 runs, breaking Hal Troksy's club record of 162 in 1936. Robbie Alomar set a new club record for (24) and RBI (120) by a switch-hitter. Both Robbie Alomar and Omar Vizquel earned Gold Gloves for their defense. In Vizquel's case, it was his sixth straight. Young Bartolo Colon's 18 wins were the most by a Tribe pitcher since Blyleven's 19 in 1984.

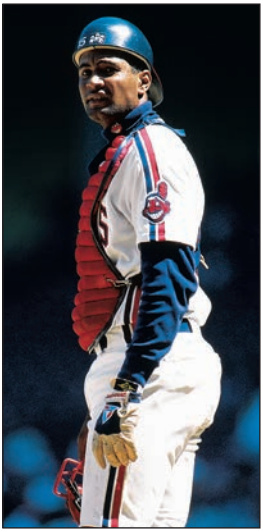
Despite that record-breaking, exciting season, the wildcard Red Sox defeated the Indians in five games in the Division Series, making the quest for a World Series wait.

After the season, Mike Hargrove, the second-most winning manager in Indians history, was fired. GM Hart hired hitting coach Charlie Manuel, who had led Cleveland's Triple-A affiliates to league titles in 1992 and 1993, as his successor.

A NEW CENTURY: DOLAN/SHAPIRO/ ANTONETTI ERA

In February of 2000, Lawrence J. Dolan and family trusts acquired all outstanding stock in the Cleveland Indians Baseball Company, Inc. With that, the David and Richard Jacobs era in Cleveland baseball was over.

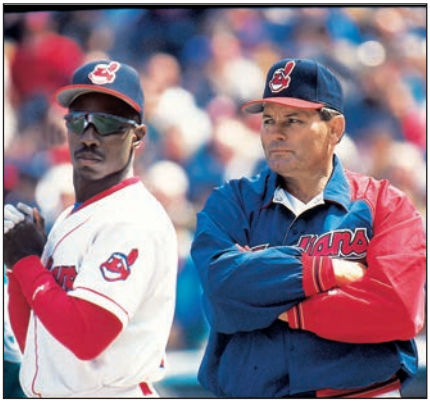
Cleveland's first real race for a postseason berth since 1959 ended on the final day of the regular season when Seattle edged the Indians for the American League wild card. The Tribe reached the 90-win mark at 90-72 for the fourth time in six seasons. Free agent acquisition Chuck Finley tied Dave Burba for a club high 16 wins. Cleveland's sellout streak reached 454 consecutive games (eventually ending at 455 in 2001) and the Indians led MLB in attendance for the first time since 1948. Overall, the Dolan's first year was one of the most exciting in Cleveland Indians history.



Sandy Alomar, Jr.

In 2001, the Indians returned to the top of the Central Division standings with a record of 91-71, giving them their sixth American League Central Division title in seven seasons since 1995. Jim Thome hit the most home runs (49) by a left-handed hitter in club history. Thome also had a career-high 124 RBI. Juan Gonzalez, in his only year with the Indians, added 140 RBI.

C.C. Sabathia, the Tribe's 21-year-old sensation and the #1 pick in the 1998 draft, won a team-high 17 games and came in second in the American League Rookie of the Year balloting.



Kenny Lofton and Mike Hargrove

CC Sabathia

But the dazzling success of the 1990s – eight straight seasons from 1994 through 2001 – meant Shapiro inherited a depleted farm system and years of picking late in the first round. There was an additional cost of trades of high-level prospects for older players that had been made in order to keep the Indians at a championship level. Shapiro, known for innovation, would need to rebuild.

In 2002, Charlie Manuel was let go and replaced by Joel Skinner. The Tribe came in third place with a 74-88 record, but there were individual highlights. Among them, Jim Thome had a single-season club record of 52 home runs in his last year with the Tribe. Thome left with a career-record total of 334 home runs as an Indian. (Thome would return in 2011.)

Shapiro named Eric Wedge as the club's 39th manager for the 2003 season. The Tribe posted a 68-94 season in his first season as Jody Gerut led the team in home runs and RBI on his way to The Sporting News Rookie of the Year honor.

In 2004, the Indians improved by 12 wins, to 80-82. In Wedge's second season, the Tribe was only a game out of first place in August as Victor Martinez established a new franchise record for RBI by a catcher (101) and Travis Hafner had 109 RBI as the Indians offense finished fifth in the league in runs scored with 858. The 2004 campaign was the final season for Indians all-time great shortstop Omar Vizquel, who played the second most games in franchise history at his position.

Grady Sizemore

An impressive team core along with Shapiro's vision and Wedge's leadership paid off with a record of 93-69 in 2005, the sixth best record in MLB and the eighth highest win total in club history. In a heart-breaking final day loss to the White Sox, the Tribe barely missed the playoffs.

After a fourth-place finish in 2006 (78-48), the Indians again claimed the American League Central Division title in 2007 with an MLB-best equaling record of 96-66. The team advanced to its first ALCS since 1998 after defeating the New York Yankees in four games. The Tribe, however, lost to Boston in seven games.

Sabathia (19-7, 3.21 ERA) became the first Indians pitcher since 1972 to win the AL Cy Young Award. Eric Wedge was named American League Manger of the Year, becoming the first Indians manager to ever achieve that honor. Roberto Hernández (then known as Fausto Carmona) seemed to come out of nowhere to win 19 games, as well as finishing second in the American League in ERA, to give the Indians the best 1-2 tandem baseball along with Sabathia. Victor Martinez led the club with 114 RBI and finished seventh in the American League with 118 runs scored and won his first Rawlings Gold Glove. Indians starters led the American League in ERA as the Tribe finished third in total team ERA.

In 2008 the Indians fought their way to an 81-81 record after being 15 games below .500 in early August. Cliff Lee became the second consecutive Indians pitcher to win the Cy Young Award after going an amazing 22-3 with a 2.54 ERA in 31 starts. He did this without having made the Tribe's postseason roster the year before, and after a stint in Triple-A. Lee had the most wins by any Indian pitcher since Gaylord Perry in 1972 and the second highest winning percentage (.880) in club history.

The poor start in 2008 and expiring contracts of Casey Blake and C.C. Sabathia led the Indians to move in a younger, athletic direction. The team acquired Carlos Santana, Michael Brantley and Matt LaPorta. In 2009 the Indians finished with a 65-97 (.401) in Eric Wedge's final season as the Indians manager. Grady Sizemore's injuries and a pitching staff that posted a team ERA over 5.00 led the Indians to trade Lee, Victor Martinez, Ryan Garko and Mark DeRosa. In return the Tribe obtained promising players Chris Perez, Carlos Carrasco, Justin Masterson, Jason Donald and Lou Marson.

Thome's Return in 2011

In 2010, the Tribe finished with a disappointing final record of 69-93. Still, there were highlights. The team finished strong, winning seven of the last nine games, and going 16-14 in September and October.

The Indians were hit hard by injuries. Standout players Grady Sizemore, Shin-Soo Choo and Asdrubal Cabrera were only in the lineup together 28 times in a 162-game regular season, or about 17 percent of the time. To make it even tougher, all those games were early in the season, before May 16.

Pitching was a bright spot in 2010, as the team ERA in the second half of the season was 3.89, and ranked 4th in the American League. And he bullpen began to emerge as a force, mounting the third best ERA improvement in MLB from 2009 to 2010. The bullpen was anchored by closer Chris Perez, who finished second in the American League, with 1.71 ERA and 23 saves to his credit. Tribe rookie pitchers led the American League with 22 wins. The Indians ended the season with the youngest roster in the Major Leagues.

The young team had a red-hot start in 2011. The Tribe hit its season peak on May 23, going 15 games over .500 (30-15). Pitcher Justin Masterson dominated on the mound, posting the 12-lowest ERA in the American League (3.21). Asdrubral Cabrera set a club record for home runs by a shortstop in a single season with 25, and Carlos Santana set a club record for home runs by a switch hitter with 27.

The season marked the return of Indians of Jim Thome, who also returned to form for the final five weeks of the season. Thome batted .296 and had an .896 OPS (On-Base Plus Slugging) that would have led the club had it been over a full season. The Tribe's living legend remained a franchise record-holder in career home runs with 337, and walks, with 1008.

The Tribe finished 2011 with an 80-82 record, coming in second place in the American League Central Division.

Outstanding individual achievements and big changes marked the 2012 season. The year started out strong, with the Indians achieving a season high eight games over .500 on May 23. On July 26, the Tribe played the Detroit Tigers and pounded Tiger pitcher Justin Verlander for four runs in the seventh inning for a tremendous come-from-behind victory, winning 5-3.

The next day, July 27, marked an 18-45 run that included an 11-game losing streak. On September 27, Sandy Alomar, Jr. replaced Manny Acta as Manager.

The Tribe gave fans plenty of highlights, though: young second baseman Jason Kipnis became the fourth Indian over the last 25 years to collect 10HR, 70 RBIs, 80 runs, and 30 steals in the same season, joining the ranks of Roberto Alomar, Kenny Lofton and Grady Sizemore. Closer Chris Perez saved 39 games, the fourth most in the majors.

History of Cleveland Names

1869 FOREST CITYS

Cleveland was known as the Forest Citys.

1889 SPIDERS

The 1889 Cleveland club was comprised of so many tall and skinny players, the management decided to accent their features, and changed the name of the club to Spiders.

1900 BLUES

Referring to the bright blue uniforms worn by the team.

1902 BRONCHOS

The 1902 Cleveland players didn't like the name Bluebirds. They voted and chose the more forceful nickname Bronchos.

1903 NAPS

The team discarded the blue uniforms and a local daily newspaper sponsored a naming contest. "Naps" was selected in honor of Napoleon Lajoie.

1915 INDIANS

Upon Lajoie's leaving Cleveland for Philadelphia following the 1914 season, team officials determined a new name was in order for the 1915 season.

According to The Plain Dealer of January 17, 1915, team owner Charles W. Somers invited the Cleveland baseball writers to help in the selection of a new club name. The writers solicited their readers for suggestions. Through this process the name "Cleveland Indians" was selected. "Indians" was one of the names used by

LOUIS FRANCIS SOCKALEXIS

Louis Francis Sockalexis (1871-1913) was a Penobscot Indian from Old Town, Maine and the first American Indian to play major league baseball and be clearly recognized as an Indian. Half Sioux, half white, James Madison Toy played in the late 1880s through the early 1890s, but there are no indications that his contemporaries knew of his Native American heritage. That was hardly the case with Sockalexis, whose very presence during Cleveland's spring training of 1897, caused a sensation wherever he went. Indeed, the 1997 season marked the 100th Anniversary of Sockalexis' first season in a Cleveland uniform, a season comparable only to that of Jackie Robinson and Larry Doby as a landmark campaign featuring an athlete attempting to hurdle prejudice to succeed.

Sockalexis was considered one of the greatest collegiate baseball players of his day. He batted well over .400 in two seasons at Holy Cross College in Worcester, MA. In addition to his slugging prowess, "Sock" was known for his legendary long, accurate throws from the outfield to cut down runners and his base-stealing skill (he once stole six bases in one game against Brown University). So spectacular were his feats on the diamond at the school that, in 1956, when the Holy Cross Athletic Hall of Fame was created, Sockalexis was the very first athlete inducted.

Baseball Hall of Fame player-manager Hughie Jennings wrote of him: "At no time has a player crowded so many remarkable accomplishments into such a short period of time as Sockalexis. He should have been the greatest player of all times - greater than Cobb, Wagner, Lajoie, Hornsby or any of the other men who made history for the game."

In spite of the presence of three future Hall of Fame stars on the 1897 Cleveland Spiders club - Cy Young, Bobby Wallace and Jesse Burkett - it was Sockalexis everyone turned out to see play. And they were not disappointed. Against Hall of Fame pitcher Amos Rusie, possessor of the fastest and nastiest breaking pitch of his day, Sockalexis powered a long home run in his very first at bat in New York City at the Polo Grounds.

Louis Sockalexis was inducted into the Maine Sports Hall of Fame in 1985. He was also inducted, along with his second cousin, marathon runner Andrew Sockalexis (Boston Marathon second place finisher 1912 and 1913, 4th place finisher in the 1912 Olympic Marathon at Stockholm), into the American Indian Athletic Hall of Fame in April, 2000 in ceremonies in Tulsa, OK.

the National League club of Cleveland two decades earlier.

The old National League club began to be referred to as the "Indians" upon the arrival of Louis Francis Sockalexis, a Penobscot Indian from Old Town, Maine, who was a member of that club in 1897.

The following day on January 18, 1915, on page eight of The Plain Dealer, the choice of the name "Indians" was further amplified.

"Many years ago there was an Indian named Sockalexis who was the star of the Cleveland baseball club. As batter, fielder and baserunner he was a marvel. Sockalexis so far outshone his teammates that he naturally came to be regarded as the whole team. The "fans" throughout the country began to call the Clevelanders the "Indians." It was an honorable name, and while it stuck the team made an excellent record.

It has now been decided to revive this name. The Clevelands of 1915 will be the "Indians." There will be no real Indians on the roster, but the name will recall fine traditions. It is looking backward to a time when Cleveland had one of the most popular teams of the United States. It also serves to revive the memory of a single great player who has been gathered to his fathers in the happy hunting ground of Abenakis."

PROGRESSIVE FIELD

Progressive Insurance purchased the naming rights to the ballpark on January 11, 2008.

Historians are certain to identify the year 1994 as a significant time in the history of the city of Cleveland. The Gateway Sports and Entertainment Complex, consisting of Progressive Field (formerly Jacobs Field), the current home of the Indians, and Quicken Loans Arena (formerly Gund Arena), will be remembered as the crowning jewel in the city's ever-changing urban landscape.

Gateway was made possible by its own 50/50 public/private partnership- through the support and cooperative efforts of the Cleveland business community, government, the Indians, our neighbors the Cavaliers, sports fans, and most importantly, the people of Cuyahoga County.

Progressive Field is an urban ballpark in the truest sense, both architecturally and aesthetically. Built within the physical boundaries of the three main streets in downtown Cleveland (Ontario to west, Carnegie to south, and East 9th Street to the east), Progressive Field offers a fan-friendly facility featuring an intimate environment. The exposed steel design, which matches that of the many bridges on the north coast, and the vertical light towers, which match the smoke stacks of Cleveland's industrial zone and the high-rise office buildings in Cleveland's downtown area, are just a couple of Progressive Field's architectural features that blend with Cleveland's cityscape.

Progressive Field initially opened its gates to fans on Saturday, April 2, 1994 for an exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates, but the official opener occurred on Monday, April 4, 1994. The Indians came from behind in exciting fashion to defeat the Seattle Mariners 4-3 on an 11th inning single by Wayne Kirby. The opener included all of the pageantry of Opening Day, highlighted by President Bill Clinton throwing out the first pitch.

Two Cleveland institutions - the Cleveland Indians and Progressive Insurance - joined forces on January 11, 2008 to help bring the excitement of championship baseball to fans everywhere. What was known as Jacobs Field since 1994 is now Progressive Field.

Progressive, a leading car, motorcycle and commercial auto insurer, partnered with the Indians on a 16-year deal for the naming rights to the ballpark and will also become the Official Auto Insurer of the Cleveland Indians. Progressive's payments to the Indians over the 16-year term of the agreement will average approximately $3.6 million annually.

Now entering its 20th season, Progressive Field has been the site for the World Series twice (1995 and 1997), postseason play seven times (1995-1999, 2001, 2007 - 34 home games, 1,517,431 fans), and the 1997 All-Star Game. It led Major League Baseball in attendance in 2000, sold out prior to Opening Day five seasons (1996-2000), set a Major League record for consecutive sellouts with 455, and has entertained more than 46 million fans.

CLEVELAND INDIANS HALL OF FAME

The Cleveland Indians Hall of Fame was established in 1951 to recognize those players who achieved greatness in a Cleveland uniform. Selected by a committee consisting of baseball historians, writers, broadcasters and executives, inductees must have been active at least three seasons for Cleveland and be retired at least one year.

In 2009, the Indians organization established the Distinguished Hall of Fame to honor those non-uniformed personnel whose contributions made a significant impact on the fortunes of the franchise.

Set club record for home runs by a catcher (91) as the team leader during the most exciting decade in Indians history. The six-time All-Star led Cleveland to five consecutive (1995-99) A.L. Central Division titles. He won the 1990 A.L. Rookie of the Year Award and a Gold Glove after being acquired from San Diego. His best season of 1997 followed several injury-marred years. He homered and was MVP of the All-Star Game in Cleveland; batted .324 with 21 homers and 83 RBI to lead the Tribe to its second World Series in two years; and had five homers and 19 RBI in the 1997 postseason.

Earl Averill (1929-39) – OF — Inducted in 1951

The "Earl of Snohomish" was the third player to have their number retired (#3) by the Indians (1975). His 226 home runs with the Tribe was a club record until 1996. The six-time A.L. All-Star is the Tribe's all-time leader in runs (1,154), triples (121), RBI (1,084), total bases (3,200) and extra-base hits (724). He had a .322 average with 1,903 hits in 1,509 games for the Indians and hit .378 (A.L.-best 232 hits) in 1936. He was elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1975.

Jim Bagby Sr. (1916-23) – RHP — Inducted in 2007

"Sarge" went 122-85 with 131 complete games for Cleveland, including 23-13 with a 1.96 ERA in 1917. His "Fadeaway Pitch" found fame in 1920 while he led the A.L. in wins (31-12 record), complete games (30) and innings (339.2), helping the Indians win their first World Series. He was the first pitcher to hit a World Series homer – a three-run shot to the centerfield bleachers at League Park that helped beat Brooklyn, 8-1, in Game 5. His son Jim, Jr., went 55-54 for the Tribe (1941-45).

Lou Boudreau (1938-50) – SS — Inducted in 1954

Most popular player of his era, the "Boy Manager" was driving force behind Tribe's 1948 World Series Title. The shortstop was A.L. MVP in 1948 (.355, 18 HR, 106 RBI). He was the winningest manager in club history (728-649) as player-manager from 1942-50. Boudreau made seven All-Star Game appearances and was the batting champion (.327) in 1944. He was the second Tribe player to have their uniform number (#5) retired. Among the clubs all-time leaders in games, runs, hits, doubles and extra-base hits. Lou was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1970.

Bill Bradley (1901-10) – 3B — Inducted in 1957

The native Clevelander anchored hot corner in first decade of club's franchise history. He jumped his contract with the Chicago Cubs in 1901 to join Cleveland. He set a number of career highs (.304, 11 HR, 77 RBI, 104 runs) in 1902 and had a career-best 84 RBI in 1904. Led A.L. third baseman in fielding percentage four times and hit .272 in 1,231 games with the Indians. Led the club in doubles and triples three times, runs scored twice and is among Tribe leaders in triples and steals. Bradley hit for the cycle on September 24, 1903 at Washington. After his playing days, he became a long time scout for the Indians.

Ray Chapman (1912-20) – SS — Inducted in 2006

Standout shortstop was fatally beaned by pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees on August 16, 1920 at Polo Grounds in New York, and died the next day. "Chappie" had been Cleveland's starting shortstop since 1913 and batted .300 or better in three of his final seasons. His 52 steals in 1917 was a club record until 1980. Led A.L. in runs (84) and walks (84) in 1918 and led club in runs scored three times. Hit .278 with 233 stolen bases in 1,015 games and was a fine fielder. Ranks among Tribe leaders in steals and triples.

Rocky Colavito (1955-59, 1965-67) – OF — Inducted in 2006

Electrified fans with power bat and strong throwing arm. "The Rock" tied Major League record with four consecutive HR June 10, 1959 at Baltimore. He hit 300 homers faster than all but four players in the history of baseball. Led the A.L. with 42 HR in 1959 and 108 RBI in 1965. In 1966, Colavito led the A.L. in slugging (.620) in 1958, home runs (42) in 1959, RBI (108) in 1965, and walks (93) and fielding (1.000) in 1966. He's among Tribe's all-time leaders in home runs and slugging percentage, hitting 190 homers in 913 games for the club and 374 in his career (1955-68). The three-time A.L. All-Star (1959, 1965-66) was voted most memorable personality in club history in a poll conducted in 1975.

Stan Coveleski (1916-24) – RHP — Inducted in 1966

Fourth winningest pitcher in club history and was mound star of 1920 World Series, tying Series record with three wins and brought a championship to Cleveland with 3-0 victory in the seventh game vs. Brooklyn. He allowed just two runs (0.67 ERA) in the three complete-game victories the entire series. Won 20+ games in four consecutive seasons (1918-21). Coveleski pitched a club-record 19 innings on May 14, 1918. Went 172-123 with 2.80 ERA, 31 shutouts and 194 complete games in nine years with Indians and was elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1969.

Larry Doby (1947-55, 1958) – OF — Inducted in 1966

First African-American player in A.L. history. He helped the Tribe to two A.L. pennants as an all-around star outfielder. Doby, 23, was signed by Bill Veeck in 1947 after starring with the Negro League Newark Eagles. Hit .318 in 1948 World Series, including a decisive home run in game four. The outfielder led the A.L. in homers (32) and runs (104) in 1952 and homers (32) and RBI (126) in 1954. Among Tribe's all-time leaders in HR, RBI, walks and slugging percentage. Was the fifth player to have uniform number retired (#14) by Indians and was elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1998.

Bob Feller (1936-56) – RHP — Inducted in 1957

Feller is arguably the greatest pitcher in club history. He is the Tribe's all-time leader in wins (266), strikeouts (2,581), walks (1,764) starts (484), complete games (279) and innings (3,827). "Rapid Robert" led the A.L. in wins six times and strikeouts seven times. He set club single-season records for strikeouts (348), innings (371), shutouts (10) and complete games (36) in 1946. Feller pitched a club-record three no-hitters and 12 one-hitters. The eight-time A.L. All-Star tossed 44 career shutouts and was the first player to have his uniform number retired (#19) by the Indians. A true patriot, Bob proudly served in the U.S. Navy from 1941-45. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1962.

Wes Ferrell (1927-33) – RHP — Inducted in 2009

The only pitcher in MLB history to win 20 or more games in each of his first four full seasons, he was 91-48 during that time (1929-32). Compiled a 102-62 record with 113 complete games during his career in Cleveland. Overall with six teams through 1933, he had a 193-128 record. Holds the MLB record for home runs by a pitcher (37). Overall, he hit .280 with 38 homers and 208 RBI. Though he twice won 25 games, his most complete season was 1931 with Cleveland. He had a 22-12 record, 27 complete games, three saves, nine homers, 30 RBI and a .319 batting average. Owns the third best winning pct. (.622) in club history (based on 1,000 or more innings pitched).

Elmer Flick (1902-10) – OF — Inducted in 1963

The speedy Bedford, Ohio native won 1905 A.L. batting title (.308). He led the league in triples three times (1905-'07) and steals twice. Ranks third in club history with 106 triples and sixth in steals (207). His career peaked from 1904-07 with four consecutive seasons batting over .300. The Tribe turned down Detroit's trade offer of Ty Cobb for Flick, who hit .299 in 935 games with Indians and .313 with 353 steals in his 13-year career. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1963.

Mike Garcia (1948-59) – RHP — Inducted in 2007

"The Big Bear" had a 142-96 record and 21 saves for Cleveland as he joined Hall of Famers Bob Feller, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn in the Indians' famed "big four" rotation. A three-time All-Star (1952-54), he twice led the A.L. in ERA (2.36 as a rookie in 1949 and 2.64 in 1954 as Cleveland won 111 games and the A.L. pennant). Garcia won 18 or more games in four straight seasons from 1951-54.

Joe Gordon (1947-50, 1958-60) – 2B/Manager — Inducted in 2008

The acrobatic second baseman teamed with shortstop Lou Boudreau to form one of the finest double-play combinations in franchise history. "Flash" hit 32 home runs with 124 RBI in 1948 as the Indians were crowned World Series Champions. During his 11 year career, Gordon was a nine-time All-Star, including three times with Cleveland (1947-49). An inspirational leader, he became manager of the Indians in 1958 and guided the club to a second place finish in 1959. Gordon was involved in one of the most bizarre trades in baseball history when, as manager of the Indians in 1960, he was traded to Detroit for Tigers Manager Jimmy Dykes. It was the only time in baseball history that managers were traded.

Mel Harder (1927-47) – RHP — Inducted in 1951

Revered legend made his mark as a pitcher and pitching coach, wearing an Indians uniform for 36 consecutive seasons. His 20 consecutive seasons as Tribe player and 582 games pitched are club records. He had a 223-186 career record and is second to Bob Feller in innings pitched, wins and starts. Harder's 13 scoreless All-Star innings, over four games (1934-37), is a Major League record. He won 15 or more games eight times and led the Indians in wins five times, innings pitched and ERA four times. Harder was the Tribe's pitching coach for 16 seasons (1948-63) before becoming the fourth Indians player to have their uniform number retired (#18).

Mike Hargrove (1979-99) – 1B/Manager — Inducted in 2008

"Grover" spent 21 years with the Indians organization – including eight and a half seasons as the Tribe's manager (1991-99) and seven as a player (1979-85). He batted .325, .304 and .317 in his first three seasons with the Tribe, including a 23-game hitting streak in 1980. Hargrove compiled a 721-591 record as Indians manager, winning two A.L. pennants (1995 and 1997) and five consecutive A.L. Central Division Titles (1995-99). His 721 wins as manager ranked second to Lou Boudreau's 728 and his .550 winning percentage as Tribe skipper ranked third all-time to Boudreau and Al Lopez.

Jim Hegan (1941-57) – C — Inducted in 1966

Was the catcher for the great Tribe pitching staffs of the 1950s, including the championship teams of 1948 and 1954. Known as a brilliant defensive catcher and handler of pitchers. Hegan caught 100+ games each season from 1947-56 and holds the catchers' club record for games (1,491) and putouts (6,959). He led A.L. catchers in double plays four times, putouts three times and assists twice. Caught three no-hitters and six different 20-game winning pitchers with the Tribe. Was a five-time A.L. All-Star, playing in 1,526 games over his 14 seasons with the Indians.

Joe Jackson (1910-15) – OF — Inducted in 1951

"Shoeless" Joe Jackson, in 674 games, is the franchise leader in career batting average (.375). He set the club single-season records for batting average (.408) and hits (233) in 1911. Jackson led the A.L. in hits (226) and triples (26) in 1912 and hits (197), doubles (36) and slugging (.551) in 1913. Considered one of the greatest pure hitters in baseball history, only Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby have a higher Major League lifetime batting average than Jackson's .356. He was traded to Chicago (A.L.) in 1915 and barred from MLB in 1921 for involvement in the 1919 Black Sox scandal.

Addie Joss (1902-10) – RHP Inducted in 2006

Joss is the owner of a perfect game, tossed on October 2, 1908 in the heat of a pennant race. The 1-0 win against Chicago ranks as one of baseball's all-time top pitching performances. Set the club record for ERA (1.16) in 1908. Throughout his time with the Tribe, he went 160-97, including a no-hitter against the White Sox on April 29, 1910, and is the Tribe's all-time leader in ERA (1.89) and shutouts (45), second in winning percentage (.623) and complete games (234). The righthander had four 20-win seasons (1905-1908), but died tragically in 1911 at the age of 31 of tubercular meningitis. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1978.

Ken Keltner (1937-49) – 3B Inducted in 1951

A seven-time All-Star at the hot corner with a glove and bat, Keltner made two brilliant defensive plays to help halt Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak in 1941 at Cleveland Stadium. He is the club's all-time leader at third base in games, putouts, assists and double plays. He totaled 163 homers, 850 RBI and .276 average in 1,513 games with the Indians. Had career highs of 31 HR, 119 RBI, 91 runs in 1948 and .325 average in 1939. He is also among the Tribe All-Time Leaders in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, home runs, total bases, RBI and extra-base hits.

Napoleon Lajoie (1902-14) – 2B Inducted in 1951

An all-time great second baseman, he revived Cleveland baseball upon his arrival in 1902. He led the A.L. in batting average in 1903-04 and 1910. The team name of Naps from 1903 to 1914 was in his honor. He is the Tribe's all-time leader in hits (2,046) and at-bats (6,043) and among leaders in games, runs, doubles, triples, total bases, RBI, extra-base hits, batting average and steals. The player-manager from 1905-09, is a member of the 3,000 hit club and was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1937.

Bob Lemon (1946-58) – RHP Inducted in 1960

Conversion from position player to pitcher launched his Hall of Fame career that included 37 home runs and a no-hitter. A seven-time 20-game winner, led the A.L. in wins three times (1950, 1954-55). Trails only Bob Feller and Mel Harder in club wins (207), starts (350) and innings pitched (2,850). Lemon, a seven-time All-Star, went 207-108 with 22 saves in 460 games and is among the Tribe's All-Time Leaders in strikeouts, shutouts, winning pct. and complete games. He won two games in the 1948 Fall Classic and was the sixth Tribe player to have their number retired (#21). He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1976.

Kenny Lofton (1992-96, 1998-2001, 2007) – OF Inducted in 2010

Among the most popular Indians ever as the catalyst atop the lineup of the great Cleveland clubs of the 1990s. Played 10 seasons becoming all-time club leader in stolen bases with 452. Ranks 3rd all-time in runs scored (975); 9th in hits (1,512); and 11th in walks (611). Led American League in stolen bases five straight season 1992-96. Established AL and club rookie record w/66 stolen bases in 1992. Led league in hits in 1994 w/160, and in triples in '95 w/13. Dynamic style and athletic ability earned him four gold gloves. Was a five-time A.L. All-Star. Member of Indians 100th Anniversary Starting Lineup.

Al Lopez (1951-56) – Manager Inducted in 2006

"El Senor" guided Tribe to 1954 A.L. pennant and five second place finishes to the NY Yankees in six seasons at helm of Indians. Winning percentage of .617 (570-354) is best in club history. Earned 1,140 career wins as manager and is among the All-Time Major League leaders. The Hall of Famer was a standout catcher for 19 seasons, one with the Tribe (1947).

Sam McDowell (1961-71) – LHP Inducted in 2006

"Sudden Sam" overpowered A.L. hitters, winning five strikeout titles (1965-66, 68-70). He twice topped 300 "Ks"- 325 in 1965 and 304 in 1970. An imposing lefthander - ranks second to Bob Feller in club history with 2,159 strikeouts in 2,109 innings. Among Tribe all-time leaders in ERA, shutouts, innings pitched and starts. The six-time A.L. All-Star went 122-109 with a 2.99 ERA in Cleveland and had a career-best 1.81 ERA in 1968.

Charles Nagy (1990-2000) – RHP — Inducted in 2007

A member of the 1988 US Olympic team and first-round draft pick, Charlie became a three-time A.L. All-Star (1992, 96, 99). He was Cleveland's most consistent starter, posting a 129-103 record for a team that won six A.L. Central Division Titles in seven years. The best years include 1992 (17-10, career-best 2.96 ERA, 10 complete games and three shutouts) and 1996 (17-5, 3.41 ERA). His single in 1992 was the first hit by a pitcher in an All-Star Game in 29 years. He currently ranks 10th in innings pitched and fifth in strikeouts in Indians history. Nagy was among the most popular players in the era, pitching in 15 postseason games, including the World Series in 1995 and 1997.

Steve O'Neill (1911-23) – C — Inducted in 1951

O'Neill spent his first 13 years of 17-year career in Cleveland, catching 149 of 154 regular season games in the 1920 Championship season. Had a streak of nine straight seasons (1915-23) with 100+ games behind the plate. He is the Tribe's career catching leader in assists and double plays. Hit .300 or better three straight seasons (1920-22). Played in 1,365 games for Indians and had a 199-168 record as the team's Manager from 1935-37.

Satchel Paige (1948-49) – RHP — Inducted in 1965

Daring signing of Paige by Bill Veeck made difference in the 1948 A.L. pennant race. The Negro League legend won six of his seven decisions down the stretch with a 2.48 ERA as a 42-year old rookie. His appearance in the 1948 World Series was the first ever by an African-American pitcher. He won hundreds of games from 1924 to 1948 before signing with the Indians. Paige was 10-8 with six saves in 52 games for the Tribe and was an all-time fan favorite, while pitching professionally into the 1960s. He was the first player inducted to the National Baseball Hall of Fame for his performance in the Negro Leagues (1971).

Gaylord Perry (1972-75) – RHP — Inducted in 2012

Perry is a Cooperstown Hall of Famer who was the first pitcher to win the Cy Young Award in each league. He won his first Cy Young Award in 1972 while with the Indians, winning 24 games with 1.92 ERA and 234 strikeouts. In his three-plus seasons with the Tribe, Perry went 70-57 with a 2.51 ERA and had a save in his only relief outing. He was a two-time All-Star with Indians during the 1972 and 1974 seasons. Overall, Perry was a five-time All-Star with a record of 314-265 in 22 seasons (5350IP/3534Ks).

Al Rosen (1947-56) – 3B — Inducted in 2006

A stellar career was highlighted by an A.L. MVP season in 1953, the last Indian to do so. "Flip" came within one hit of winning the 1953 Triple Crown (.336 BA, 43 HR, 145 RBI), ending up losing the batting title that year by .001. He also led the AL that season in runs and hits (201). Rosen twice led the A.L. in homers and RBI (37 in 1950 and 105 in 1952, respectively being the other years). He had five straight 100+ RBI seasons from 1950-54 and is among the Tribe's All-Time Leaders in HRs and slugging percentage. In his last seven years (1950-56) before retiring at age 32, he averaged 27 homers, 86 runs, 102 RBI and a .287 average. The four-time A.L. All-Star was the hero of the 1954 All-Star Game in Cleveland when he hit two homers with five RBI.

Herb Score (1955-59) – LHP — Inducted in 2006

A dazzling pitching career, cut short by injury, preceded 30+ years as a beloved voice of Indians Baseball. The left-handed flame-thrower was the A.L. Rookie of the Year (16-10, 2.85 ERA) in 1955 and 20-game winner (20-9, 2.53 ERA) in 1956. The two-time All-Star led the majors in strikeouts both seasons (fanned 245 in 1955 and 263 in 1956). Having fanned 547 in his first 512 innings, Score never equaled his early success after being hit by a line drive on May 7, 1957, and retired in 1962 with a 55-46 mark. He began broadcasting Indians Baseball on TV in 1964, moved to radio booth in 1968 where he remained until his retirement after 1997 season, a total of 34 years as a Tribe broadcaster.

Joe Sewell (1920-31) – SS — Inducted in 1951

After replacing Ray Chapman in 1920, the rookie helped the Indians to a pennant and World Series kick-starting his Hall of Fame career. Having amazing bat control, this shortstop set a league-record for fewest strikeouts (only four in 608 ABs in 1925; just 114 in a 7,132 career ABs) and played in 1,103 straight games (1922-1930). Sewell topped A.L. shortstops in fielding percentage three times and led the A.L. in doubles (45) in 1924. He's among the Tribe's all-time leaders in games, at-bats, runs, hits, doubles, total bases, RBI, extra-base hits, batting average and walks. His younger brother, Luke, played for the Tribe (1921-1932, 1939). Sewell was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1977.

Louis Francis Sockalexis (1897-99) – OF — Inducted in 2006

A Penobscot Indian from Old Town, Maine, Louis Sockalexis caused a nationwide sensation playing baseball in Cleveland in the spring of 1897 as the first American Indian to play professional baseball. Sockalexis was considered one of the top collegiate baseball players of his day, earning Hall of Fame honors at Holy Cross. "Sock" was known for his powerful bat, swiftness on the base paths, and his legendary long, accurate throws from the outfield. The Cleveland Indians organization is proud to acknowledge Louis Francis Sockalexis, a Native American who has left his mark on America's national pastime and inspired the nickname used to this very day.

Tris Speaker (1916-26) – OF — Inducted in 1951

The legendary center fielder, acquired from the Boston Red Sox for $50,000, was an Indians star and leader throughout his career in Cleveland. A player-manager from 1919-1926, the "Gray Eagle" led the Indians to the 1920 World Championship. He won the 1912 MVP and A.L. batting title (.387) in 1916. He is the Tribe's all-time leader in doubles (486) and outfield assists (449) and had 3,515 hits for a career .344 average. Speaker is the all-time Major League leader with 792 doubles. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1937.

Andre Thornton (1977-87) – 1B/DH — Inducted in 2007

One of the Indians' great sluggers, "Thunder" provided consistent offense for a decade. The two-time All-Star totaled 214 homers, 419 extra-base hits, 1,954 total bases and 749 RBI, playing in 1,225 games in a Tribe uniform. He hit for the cycle at Boston's Fenway Park on April 22, 1978. Thornton had 33 homers, 105 RBI in 1978; 32 homers, 116 RBI in 1982 and 33 homers, 99 RBI in 1984. His 119 home runs are the most by an Indians player at Cleveland Municipal Stadium. A man of deep faith, Andre was the recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award for playing excellence and exemplary community service in 1979.

Hal Trosky (1933-41) – 1B — Inducted in 1951

The slugging first baseman burst on the scene in 1934 with 35 HR, 142 RBI and a .330 BA. He held the club record for single-season RBI (162) from 1936 to 1999. Led the club in HR six times and RBI five times. In his 1,124 games with Cleveland (1933-41), Trosky totaled 216 homers, 911 RBI and a .313 average. He had career highs of 42 homers, 162 RBI, 124 runs and a .343 average in 1936. His career was curtailed after the 1941 season by migraine headaches.

Early Wynn (1949-57, 1963) – RHP — Inducted in 1972

The burly, tough hurler won 164 of 300 big league wins in an Indians uniform, including four 20-win seasons. For 10 years in Cleveland, his overall record with the Tribe was 164-102 with 10 saves and a 3.24 ERA. He led the club in innings pitched five times (1951, 1954-57) and strikeouts five times (1951-54, 1957). His 300th victory came in an Indians uniform on July 13, 1963 after a five-year stint with the White Sox. Wynn, a six-time All-Star (three with the Indians), was the Tribe's pitching coach from 1964-66. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1972.

Cy Young (1889-99, 1909-11) – RHP — Inducted in 1951

The winningest pitcher in Major League Baseball History hailed from Newscomerstown, Ohio. "Cy" established his legend with the Cleveland Spiders of the National League. He led the Spiders to a Temple Cup Championship in 1895. From 1890 to 1898, Young won 241 games with the Spiders. After 10 years away from Cleveland, he returned to pitch in 63 games for the Indians (1909-11), winning 29 of his 511 big league victories. Young's complete career record included winning 20 or more games 15 times and 30 or more five times. He was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1937, the second year players were inducted.

OWNERSHIP OF THE CLEVELAND INDIANS

Paul J. Dolan

Owner/Chairman/Chief Executive Officer

Major League Baseball formally approved and announced Paul Dolan as the primary control person of the Cleveland Indians on Jan. 10, 2013, extending the Dolan family's ownership of the franchise into its 14th season. Paul will continue to serve as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Indians, roles that he accepted prior to the 2011 campaign. He began as Vice President, General Counsel of the Indians upon joining the organization in 2000 and later served as the club's President from 2004-10.

Dolan was born and raised in nearby Chardon, Ohio where he attended high school at Gilmour Academy in Gates Mills. He graduated with a B.A. degree from St. Lawrence University in 1980 and received his Juris Doctorate from the University of Notre Dame's Law School in 1983. Prior to joining the Indians, Paul was a partner at Thrasher, Dinsmore & Dolan, a Chardon, Ohio based law firm.

Paul is involved with many philanthropic and civic boards throughout the Northeast Ohio community and supports many causes, as well as a variety of business interests.

Paul and his wife, Karen, reside in Geauga County with their children.

CLUB EXECUTIVES

Mark Shapiro

President

Mark Shapiro enters his third season as President of the Cleveland Indians after spending nine (9) seasons from 2002-2010 as Executive Vice President and General Manager. Shapiro was elevated to President following the 2010 season and is in his 22nd season overall with the organization.

As President, Mark oversees the Baseball and Business Operations Departments and recently charted the organization through a series of moves to shape and clarify its strategic vision and brand. He is also leading efforts on potential design changes and state-of-the-art upgrades to Progressive Field, while exploring ways to utilize the facility for alternate forms of revenue with the creation of the Indians Music Festival, the Frozen Diamond Faceoff between the Ohio State and Michigan hockey teams, Snow Days and Tribe Fest.

During Shapiro's nine-year tenure as Executive Vice President and General Manager from November 2001 thru 2010 the Indians twice won 90 or more games (2005, 2007) and in 2007 the Indians captured the American League Central Division title with a Major League best-equaling record of 96-66 and advanced to within a game of the World Series. From 2004-2010, the club won 80-or-more games four times. The 96 wins in 2007 and 93 wins in 2005 respectively represent the 7th and 9th highest win totals in Cleveland Indians franchise history.

Following both the 2005 and 2007 seasons, Shapiro was named the Sporting News Executive of the Year, at the time the only active GM in Major League Baseball to win the award twice. He was also named the Executive of the Year by Baseball America in 2005. After the 2006 season, the Cleveland Indians organization was named "Organization of the Year" by TOPPS for the first time.

Prior to becoming General Manager, the 45-year-old Shapiro spent three seasons from 1999-2001 as Vice President, Baseball Operations/Assistant General Manager under John Hart after spending five seasons as the Tribe's Director of Minor League Operations from 1994-98.

During his tenure as Director of Minor League Operations, Mark oversaw all aspects of the Tribe's player development system and Latin American operations. He implemented the Winter Development Program, now in its 18th year, and installed a system of individual player plans for every Tribe minor leaguer in the farm system. The system he helped to create and oversee is based on a holistic philosophy of development and providing cutting-edge resources to Indians players in the mental, physical and fundamental domains; these principles remain the foundation of the club's player development system today. Mark Shapiro's career with the Cleveland Indians began in January of 1992 as an assistant in Baseball Operations.

The Baltimore, MD native played 4 years of football for the Princeton University Tigers, graduating in 1989 with a degree in history.

Shapiro's scope of work in baseball has extended beyond the Cleveland Indians. In December of 2009 he was named by Commissioner Bud Selig to the Special Committee for On-Field Matters, a 14-man panel of baseball managers and executives assembled to address on-field issues relative to Major League Baseball in its present form. He also currently serves on the Major League Baseball Ticketing Committee, which examines current marketplace ticketing issues in MLB relative to digital ticketing, alternative revenue sources and the secondary ticketing market/dynamic pricing. Mark was named to the elite "40 under 40" by Sports Business Journal recognizing the top 40 sports executives under the age of 40 and was on Baseball America's "Ten to Watch" list in 2007.

Mark's time in Cleveland has also included significant service work and charitable efforts in local communities. He is a board member of the Center for Families and Children and co-chaired a capital campaign to build that organization's current headquarters near downtown Cleveland Additionally, Mark sits on the boards for Positively Cleveland and Recovery Resources, while serving as a member of the National Advisory Board of the Positive Coaching Alliance; in 2013, he joined other local leaders to establish a PCA chapter in Cleveland.

Mark lives in Bentleyville, OH with his wife, Lissa Bockrath, a talented Cleveland-based artist. The couple has a son, Caden (10), and a daughter, Sierra (8). His brother-in-law, Eric Mangini, is the former Head Coach of the Cleveland Browns and New York Jets and is currently an analyst with ESPN. His father, Ron, was a universally respected agent who represented Hall of Famers Cal Ripken, Jr., Kirby Puckett, Jim Palmer and Eddie Murray and has authored several books on negotiations and preparation.

Dennis Lehman

Executive Vice President, Business

Dennis Lehman joined the Indians in September 1988 as Senior Vice President, Business and was promoted to Executive Vice President, Business in December 1992. Lehman is responsible for business aspects of the organization, including ballpark operations, merchandise, food and beverage, human resources, community outreach and finance. He is also the liaison with the Gateway Economic Development Corporation of Greater Cleveland, which was responsible for the building of Progressive Field.

Prior to joining the Indians, Lehman spent eighteen years in baseball management with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Lehman is civically active in the Cleveland community, currently serving as a Board member of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame & Museum, the Greater Cleveland Sports Commission, Business Volunteers Unlimited and Suburban Temple Kol Ami. He is a graduate of Leadership Cleveland, Class of 1991. He is Chairman Emeritus of the Cleveland Chapter of the American Red Cross; and Past Chairman of the Convention & Visitors Bureau of Greater Cleveland. Lehman's past honors include the 2000 Executive of the Year Award (Executive Women International), the 2002 DSM Award (Sales & Marketing Executives of Cleveland) and the 2009 Rays of Light Award (Suburban Temple Kol Ami).

A native of Philadelphia, Lehman is a 1973 graduate of LaSalle University with a degree in Political Science.

Dennis and his wife, Ginny, reside in Chagrin Falls with their three sons.

Bob DiBiasio

Senior Vice President, Public Affairs

Bob DiBiasio is entering his 34th season with the Indians and his 35th in Major League Baseball in 2013. He started in 1979 as Assistant PR Director, was named Director of PR in 1980, and named Vice President of PR in 1988. The Lakewood, OH native was promoted to his current position in 2011. His lone season away from the Tribe was 1987 when he served as PR Director for the Atlanta Braves.

He serves as the President of Cleveland Indians Charities, is an Honorary Member of both the Executive Board of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Cleveland, and the Board of the Cleveland Baseball Federation. He also serves on the Athletic Advisory Board of Notre Dame College (OH), and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Bob Feller Museum in Van Meter, IA.

DiBiasio was the 1999 recipient of the prestigious Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence in Major League Baseball. He was also inducted into the Lakewood High School Distinguished Alumni Hall of Fame in 1999. In 1986, DiBiasio was named the Public Relations Director to Sports Illustrated's Dream Team. He received the ALS Cleveland Chapter Lou Gehrig "Iron Horse" Award for Community Service in 2009, as well as the Mel Harder Distinguished Service Award for Community Involvement in 1997.

DiBiasio graduated from Lakewood High School in 1973. He earned degrees in journalism and education from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1977. While at Ohio Wesleyan, Bob was sports editor of the school paper "The Transcript"; the student Sports Information Director; and did color on OWU football and basketball broadcasts. DiBiasio also played one year of basketball and two years of baseball at OWU. In 1978 he earned his Masters Degree in journalism from The Ohio State University and started a stint as Assistant Sports Editor of the Fremont (OH) News Messenger before joining the Indians.

DiBiasio resides in Solon, OH with his wife, Penny, and their children, Julie and Patrick.

Vic Gregovits

Senior Vice President, Sales & Business Development

Vic Gregovits begins his ninth season with the Indians. As Senior Vice President of Sales & Business Development, Vic oversees all aspects of sales including Indians ticket sales (premium seating, seasons, groups and single-game sales), corporate partnerships, ticket services and fan services.

This is Vic's second stint with the Indians organization, having previously spent six seasons with the club from 1990 thru 1995 as Director of Ticket Sales, overseeing the sales and operations of the ticketing and premium seating areas. During his first tenure Vic's efforts helped the Indians set franchise records for both season and group sales as the team made a successful move from Cleveland Stadium to Jacobs Field.

After leaving the Indians he became the Vice President of Sales for the Philadelphia Eagles, where he was responsible for all aspects of ticket sales and premium seating. In 1997 Vic was hired as the Vice President of Marketing and Broadcasting for the Pittsburgh Pirates. In this capacity he managed all advertising, broadcasting, corporate partnerships, premium seating and ticket sales.

Most recently Vic was the Chief Executive Officer of the Island Sports Center at Robert Morris University in Pittsburgh, PA, where he oversaw all aspects of the sports complex operation - including advertising, marketing, facility management, memberships and leagues, retail and coordination of the Sports Center's use by University athletics.

Gregovits, 51, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration with a Sport Management Major from Robert Morris University. He is a member of the Board of Trustees at Robert Morris University and was elected to the Robert Morris University Sport Management Hall of Fame in 2006. Gregovits began his professional career with the Minnesota Strikers indoor soccer team in 1986 where he worked for one season before joining the Cleveland Cavaliers basketball club as a sales executive.

Vic and his wife, Patty, have two children (Jason, Samantha) and reside in Avon Lake, OH.

Andrew Miller

Senior Vice President, Strategy & Business Analytics

Andrew Miller begins his eighth season with the Cleveland Indians and his first since being named Senior Vice President of Strategy & Business Analytics.

In his new position, Miller will lead strategic planning, research and analysis in all areas related to business operations. In addition, he will continue to advise the Baseball Operations department on negotiations and strategic issues. Andrew will continue to report directly to Indians President Mark Shapiro, whom he has supported for the past two years in the position of Assistant to the President.

Miller joined the Indians organization in 2006, serving as Baseball Operations Assistant for the 2007 season and Assistant Director of Baseball Operations for the 2008 and 2009 seasons before being promoted to assist Shapiro during his transition to team President. In his roles within Baseball Operations, Miller was involved in every aspect of the Club's Major League team operations, focusing on financial, contractual and strategic elements of player acquisitions and negotiations. He was also instrumental in the development, construction and operations of the Club's Goodyear Player Development Complex in Arizona.

Prior to joining the Indians in 2006, Andrew spent nearly 7 years working in the investment banking and venture capital industries before completing a JD-MBA at Northwestern University in 2007. Andrew graduated with a BS in Business Administration in 1997 from the Haas School of Business at UC Berkeley, where he also spent 4 years as a left-handed pitcher on the Cal baseball team.

Andrew's brother, Geoff, is the Mental Skills Coach for the Atlanta Braves, having spent the previous 6 seasons in a similar role for the Pittsburgh Pirates and Washington Nationals.

Ken Stefanov

Senior Vice President, Finance & Chief Financial Officer

Ken Stefanov, entering his 23rd season with the Cleveland Indians, joined the club in November, 1990 as Controller and was later promoted to Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer in January, 1995. Ken began his career with the Indians in March, 1990 as an intern in the Community Relations Department. Stefanov oversees the Finance Department and all Risk Management areas of the organization, including player-related insurance issues.

Over the course of his tenure at the Indians, Stefanov has been involved with many major financial and operational projects of the club, which included the planning and financing of Jacobs Field (now called Progressive Field), taking the Indians public on the NASDAQ exchange in 1998, taking the Indians private during the Dolan Family purchase of the club in 2000 and playing a major role in the transition of the Indians' Spring Training operations from Florida to Arizona in 2009. Ken is currently a member of the Major League Baseball League-Wide Insurance Committee and heads up an eight team regional CFO group comprised of eight Midwest MLB teams, which meets monthly to discuss various baseball financial and operational issues.

Prior to joining the Indians, Ken was employed with the Audit Division of Arthur Andersen & Co. from 1979-1982, and worked in several different financial positions with the May Department Stores in Cleveland from 1982-1989.

Stefanov, born and raised on the southeast side of Cleveland, is a graduate of Holy Name High School. He attended Bowling Green State University and graduated with a degree in Accounting in 1979. Ken subsequently received his masters degree in sports administration from Kent State University in 1990. He is also a non-practicing Certified Public Accountant in the state of Ohio.

Ken currently serves on the board of the Cleveland Animal Protective League and is active with Cleveland Indians Charities events. Past affiliations with other boards include the Achievement Centers for Children and the Northeast Ohio Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. His hobbies include reading, music, movies and golf.

Ken resides in Brecksville, Ohio with his wife, Kathy Roberts.

Jim Folk

Vice President, Ballpark Operations

Jim Folk enters his 32nd season in Major League Baseball and his 22nd with the Cleveland Indians. Folk joined the organization in June of 1992 as Director of Ballpark Operations and was elevated to Vice President of Ballpark Operations in November of 2001.

In his role, Jim is responsible for all activities at Progressive Field - including ushering, security and police, guest services, construction & renovation, maintenance, custodial, playing field, and parking. He works with Gateway on lease and management issues and with the city of Cleveland on the staffing of the public safety crews around Progressive Field. Jim was heavily involved in the design and construction activities of the ballpark and oversaw the 1993 final series at Cleveland Stadium and 1994 opening at then Jacobs Field. He was the Cleveland Indians Project Manager for the Goodyear Spring Training/Player Development Complex and Ballpark, overseeing design and construction activities on behalf of the club, and is now responsible for the club's Arizona operations.

The Naperville, Illinois native's career in baseball began with the Chicago White Sox in 1979. He worked for the Sox for 10 seasons, spending five from 1984-88 as the Assistant Director of Ballpark Operations. Prior to joining the Indians he was the Director of Operations of the Florida Suncoast Dome (now Tropicana Field) from 1989-92 where he was involved in the construction and opening of the dome in 1990.

Jim, who earned a degree from Loyola University of Chicago in 1984, is a member of the American Society of Industrial Security, International Association of Venue Managers, National Fire Protection Association, Stadium Managers Association, National Center for Spectator Sports Safety and Security Lab Advisory Council, and serves on several advisory committees to Major League Baseball's Security & Facility Management Department. He is the Past President of the Stadium Managers Association, Past Chairman of the Board of Directors of Saint Joseph Academy in Cleveland and immediate Past Chair of the Historic Gateway Neighborhood Corporation Board of Trustees.

He resides in Westlake with his wife, Sue, and daughters, Kelly and Erin.

Alex King

Vice President, Marketing & Brand Management

Alex King is approaching his 3rd season with the Indians organization after being elevated to Vice President of Marketing & Brand Management prior to the 2013 campaign.

During the 2011 and 2012 seasons, Alex served as Director of Brand Management and was responsible for creating and directing all aspects of brand development, maintaining and executing brand standards, and working with internal departments and outside partners to ensure consistency of brand messaging across all mediums. During his time as Director of Brand Management, Alex focused on creating and executing new fan research capabilities, developing consistent brand standards, and establishing ROI metrics for all advertising & promotional activities. In his current role as Vice President of Marketing and Brand Management, Alex oversees all aspects of Communication, Marketing and Branding for the organization.

Prior to joining the Indians, Alex spent 10+ years in marketing and branding, including each of the last five at Procter & Gamble. Alex received his undergraduate degree in Economics from The University of Dayton where he graduated cum laude and received his MBA from The University of Chicago with concentrations in Marketing and Finance.

Alex resides in Shaker Heights with his wife, Kelly, and their daughter, Mallory.

Sara Lehrke

Vice President, Human Resources & Chief Diversity Officer

Sara Lehrke is currently in her 27th season with the Indians organization, her third as Vice President of Human Resources and Chief Diversity Officer.

Lehrke began her career with the Indians in 1985 as Administrative Assistant to the Vice President of Business. She has also worked in Ballpark Operations, Personnel and Benefits and was responsible for the creation of the Customer Service department for the Club.

As Vice President, Human Resources and Chief Diversity Officer, Lehrke is responsible for all aspects of employee recruitment, training, development and compensation for the organization. Her responsibilities include the coordination, delivery and compliance of all employee benefits, compensation and employee development. She also assists in the negotiations with various labor unions representing the employees of the Cleveland Indians. Sara's leadership role as Chief Diversity Officer led to the development and execution of an exemplary Diversity Plan that formed the foundation for more diverse business partnerships with the club, while celebrating the many different cultures of our team at Progressive Field.

Lehrke's determination and the company's investment in their employees have resulted in the club being named 2009, 2011 and 2012 Northcoast 99 Award recipients. In 2009, 2010 and 2011, the Indians organization was recognized as Best in Class for Workforce Diversity by the Commission on Economic Inclusion, as well as being named to the Commission 50 for Advancing Inclusion and Achieving results. The Cleveland Museum of Natural History has recognized the club as part of their Wellness @ Work Awards, placing 3rd in 2009 and 1st in 2010.

In 2004, she was recognized by the YWCA as a "Woman of Excellence" Award winner. Lehrke is a 2007 Alumni of LeadDIVERSITY sponsored by The Diversity Center of Greater Cleveland and is a graduate of Leadership Cleveland's Class of 2012. Lehrke serves on the Board of Directors for The Diversity Center of Northeast Ohio and on the Human Resources Committee for the Ronald McDonald House while also being active in her church.

A native of Lakewood, OH, Lehrke currently resides in North Ridgeville, OH with her husband, Dale, daughter, Jessy, and son, Ben.

Kurt Schloss

Vice President, Concessions

Kurt Schloss is entering his ninth season with the organization and his first in the newly created role as Vice President, Concessions, overseeing the Retail, Food and Beverage and Corporate Purchasing for the club.

A retail and wholesale veteran of more than 17 years prior to the Indians, Kurt joined the club in August 2004 as the Director of Merchandising, overseeing all aspects of the Mall Store, Ballpark and Spring Training retail businesses. He held that position for two seasons before being elevated to Senior Director and taking on Corporate Purchasing for the team.

In Kurt's new role, he will continue to oversee Merchandising and Corporate Purchasing while adding oversight of the Food and Beverage business to his responsibilities. Reporting to Dennis Lehman, Kurt serves on the Strategy and Investment Committees and also helped to lead the Indians Snow Days and Frozen Diamond Faceoff projects, along with the development and execution of the Indians Youth Baseball program and the successful Round Up for Charity initiative, which has brought in more than $50,000 annually since inception.

Kurt is a graduate of THE Ohio State University, with a BA in Organizational Communication. He resides in Bath, OH with his wife, Linda, and their three boys, Jack, Robert and Michael.

Joe Znidarsic

Vice President, General Counsel

Joe Znidarsic is in his 10th season as the club's Vice President, General Counsel.

Joe previously served as lead legal counsel for the Lawrence Dolan family in the acquisition of the Cleveland Indians franchise and remained as the Indians' outside legal counsel until 2004 when he was promoted to his current position as chief legal counsel for the club. Joe also played a significant role in the planning and creation of SportsTime Ohio, the Dolan family-owned regional sports network that was acquired by FOX Sports Ohio in December 2012.

A native of the Cleveland area, Joe attended St. Joseph High School (now Villa Angela-St. Joseph) and graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1973 with a degree in business administration. He attended law school at Case Western Reserve University, graduating in 1976.

Znidarsic remains a partner of the Chardon, Ohio law firm of Thrasher, Dinsmore & Dolan, which he joined in 1977. During his years practicing law Joe developed significant experience counseling business clients in the areas of mergers, acquisition, governance, finance, income tax and estate planning.

Joe and his wife, Jill, live in Lake County. He is an active participant in many charities, local boards and business groups.

Curtis Danburg

Senior Director, Communications

Curtis Danburg will be entering his 18th season with the Cleveland Indians.

In his current role as Senior Director of Communications, he oversees Corporate Communications, Baseball Information, Broadcasting, Digital Media and Digital Assets (historical archiving, photography, digital signage). He began his career with the organization spending three years of interning in the Indians Media Relations Department before becoming a full-time member of Media Relations in 1998. He transitioned in 2005 to lead Corporate Communications and Digital Media, areas still under his direction. Danburg also spent seven seasons (2005-2011) overseeing Creative Services for the Indians before being promoted to a leadership role with the entire Communications division in 2011.

A native of Mentor, OH, Curtis graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1996, majoring in Sports Management. He serves as a Board Member for Guidestone Ohio and Baseball Heritage Museum.

Curtis and his wife, Danielle, reside in Fairview Park, OH with their two children, Tyler and Hannah.

Mike Hargrove

Special Advisor

Cleveland Indians Hall of Famer Mike Hargrove enters his third season since rejoining the organization as Special Advisor in 2011.

Hargrove was previously a member of the Indians family for 21 seasons from 1979 to 1999, spending 8 ½ seasons as Indians Manager from 1991-99. The 63-year old Perryton, TX native compiled a record of 721-591 (.550) for the Tribe, posting the 2nd highest managerial win total in franchise history behind Lou Boudreau's 728 victories. Hargrove led the Indians to five straight American League Central Division titles from 1995-99 and two American League Pennants in 1995 & '97, the only manager in club history to win multiple AL titles.

Hargrove also spent four seasons (2000-03) managing the Baltimore Orioles and three seasons with the Seattle Mariners (2005-07), recording a career Major League managerial record of 1188-1173 (.503) over 16 seasons. Mike played for the Indians from 1979-85 and was named Indians "Man of the Year" in 1980 & 1981 and won the Frank Gibbons "Good Guy" Award in 1985. He finished his major league career as a .290 (1614-5564) hitter in 1666 games from 1974-85, earning A.L. Rookie of the Year honors with Texas in 1974 (.323, 4HR, 66RBI). Mike led the A.L. with a .432 OBP in 1981. His best year in Cleveland was 1980 when he hit .304 with 11 HR, 86 runs and 85 RBI.

The 2008 Indians Hall of Fame inductee fulfills a variety of roles for the organization, as Hargrove assists Terry Francona and his coaching staff in spring training, provides guest color commentary on a number of telecasts throughout the season, and serves as a key resource for the many business, community and charitable endeavors of the franchise.

Mike lives in Richfield with his wife, Sharon. They have five children and ten grandchildren. The couple grew up in Perryton, Texas and are active in many local charities, including Make-A-Wish Foundation, Providence House, Aluminum Cans for Burned Children, Coats for Kids, ALS, Cystic-Fibrosis and Our Lady of the Wayside.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Chris Antonetti

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Chris Antonetti enters his third season as Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Cleveland Indians after being elevated to the position following the 2010 campaign. It is his 15th season overall with the franchise after spending nine years as Assistant GM and, later, Vice President of Baseball Operations from 2002-10.

Antonetti, 38, joined the Indians organization prior to the 1999 season as an assistant in the Baseball Operations Department. He was promoted to Director of Major League Operations in August 2001, Assistant GM in January 2002 and Vice President in March 2007.

As Assistant GM, Chris helped Mark Shapiro orchestrate the team's historic rebuilding efforts between 2002 and 2004 that rapidly transformed an aging roster back to postseason contention. Between 2005 and 2007, the club had baseball's fifth highest winning percentage, matched only by teams that spent, on average, $260 million more over those three years. In 2007, the Indians led the Major Leagues in wins and reached the ALCS for the first time since 1998.

Most recently, Antonetti oversaw a strategic reshaping of the Indians Major League club, which began with naming Terry Francona, a two-time World Series champion with 30+ years of professional baseball experience, as Indians manager on Oct. 8, 2012. This effort was followed by a series of moves to bolster the Tribe's 40-man roster, acquiring Matt Albers, Mike Aviles, Trevor Bauer, Yan Gomes, Bryan Shaw and Drew Stubbs through trades, while adding Brett Myers, Mark Reynolds and Nick Swisher via free agency. In previous seasons, Antonetti was also instrumental in helping to engineer trades that brought Michael Brantley, Asdrubal Cabrera, Carlos Carrasco, Ubaldo Jimenez, Corey Kluber, Lou Marson, Justin Masterson, Zach McAllister, Chris Perez, Carlos Santana and Joe Smith to Cleveland.

Along with John Mirabelli and Brad Grant, Antonetti has helped re-frame the club's amateur scouting processes and acquisition strategies. In the last five years, the club has added the likes of Jesus Aguilar, Cody Allen, Scott Barnes, Lonnie Chisenhall, Jason Kipnis, Francisco Lindor, Tyler Naquin, Dorssys Paulino, Ronny Rodriguez and Danny Salazar - all of whom have already impacted the Major League club or currently reside among the organization's top 10 prospects entering 2013 according to Baseball America.

Chris began his career in professional baseball in the summer of 1997 as an intern with the Montreal Expos in West Palm Beach, FL. He was later hired as Assistant Director of Player Development with the Expos in November 1997 and served in that position until joining the Indians staff.

He graduated magna cum laude from Georgetown University in 1996 with a degree in business administration and earned a master's degree from the University of Massachusetts in sports management the following year. At Georgetown he was a student manager for the men's basketball team for one and a half years under John Thompson Jr.

Chris and his wife, Sarah, live in Westlake, OH with their daughters, Mya and Ella.

Mike Chernoff

Assistant General Manager

Mike Chernoff is in his tenth season with the Cleveland Indians and his third as the club's Assistant General Manager after being elevated to the position in October 2010.

Chernoff was previously the Tribe's Director of Baseball Operations over four seasons from 2007-10 after spending the 2005-06 campaigns as the Assistant Director of Baseball Operations. His tenure with the organization started in June 2003 when he began an internship in Baseball Operations.

As Assistant General Manager, Mike is involved in all aspects of baseball operations and primarily serves to assist Executive VP & GM Chris Antonetti in all player acquisitions, contract negotiations, player evaluations, and the day-to-day operations of the Baseball Operations Department. He also oversees the club's professional scouting, baseball analytics and video scouting within the Baseball Operations Department and is responsible for the interpretation and implementation of Major League waiver and option rules. This offseason, Chernoff assisted with a variety of strategic moves that impacted the Indians Major League team, including the hiring of Terry Francona and numerous player acquisitions via trade, waiver claim and free agency.

Mike played four years of varsity baseball as a middle infielder at Princeton University and served as captain of the team as a senior. He earned a degree in economics with a certificate in finance from the Ivy League institution in June 2003.

Mike and his wife, Sarah, reside in Beachwood with their son, Brody. His father, Mark, is the Vice President of Programming at WFAN in New York City.

Ross Atkins

Vice President, Player Development

Ross Atkins begins his third season as the club's Vice President of Player Development and 13th overall as a member of the Indians front office.

Atkins oversees all elements of the Tribe's Player Development system, including the organization's six (6) minor league affiliates and all Latin American Operations. The Indians player development system is based upon a holistic developmental philosophy that focuses upon providing Indians' players with cutting edge resources in the mental, physical and fundamental domains from the day they sign with the organization throughout their stay in the Tribe's minor league system.

The Indians Player Development system has made significant contributions to the club's Major League roster, as recent seasons have seen the likes of Cody Allen, Scott Barnes, Lonnie Chisenhall, Nick Hagadone, Frank Herrmann, David Huff, Jason Kipnis, Vinnie Pestano, Cord Phelps and Josh Tomlin all make their respective big league debuts for Cleveland. Following Double-A Akron's 2012 Eastern League title, the Indians Player Development system has now produced at least one league championship in four consecutive seasons.

In addition to developing players, the Indians Player Development system has placed several of its staff members on Major League coaching staffs over the last few seasons, including Mickey Callaway and Mike Sarbaugh on Terry Francona's current staff, as well as Jake Beiting (HOU), Dave Hudgens (NYM), Rob Leary (FLA) and Charles Nagy (ARI).

Atkins, 39, was elevated to his current position after serving as the Indians Director of Player Development from 2007-10. He also spent three seasons from 2004-06 as the club's Director of Latin American Operations after supporting John Farrell from 2001-03 as the Assistant Director of Player Development.

Ross pitched for five seasons from 1995-99 in the Tribe's minor league system after being selected in the 38th round of the 1995 draft, spending his last two seasons at AA Akron. He compiled a career minor league mark of 37-32 with a 4.13 ERA in 141 games/66 starts. Upon the completion of his playing career, he spent the 2000 season as a pitching coach and translator/English instructor for Danys Baez during his transition from Cuba to the United States during his first pro season. He has also served as a pitching coach in the Florida Instructional League in 2000 and 2001.

Atkins attended Coral Gables (FL) High School outside Miami and then spent four years playing baseball for Wake Forest University, where he received a bachelor's degree in economics and was a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll.

Ross resides in Cleveland with his wife, Christine, and their daughters, Jane & Marita.

John Mirabelli

Senior Director, Scouting Operations

John Mirabelli begins his 14th season in charge of the club's Scouting Operations Department. He served as Assistant General Manager from 2002-10 after joining the organization in 2000 as the Indians Director of Scouting.

Mirabelli, 52, has taken on an expanded role in the procurement of amateur and professional talent, both in the United States and abroad. John directly oversees and manages the scouting and acquisition efforts in the domestic and international markets for the club. The club continues to operate heavily in Latin America and the Pacific Rim as evidenced in the recent amateur signings of Dorsyss Paulino (Dominican), Chiang Shao-Ching (Taiwan), Chen Chang Lee (Taiwan), Chun Chen (Taiwan) and Toru Murata (Japan). Additionally, he assists General Manager Chris Antonetti in all player acquisitions relative to the 40-man roster and minor league system. He continues to oversee and assist Brad Grant in the First-Year Player Draft, which has resulted in a number of highly-regarded classes (named best MLB Draft in 2010 by Baseball America).

The Pittsburgh, PA native spent the 1998-99 seasons as the National Crosschecker in the Detroit Tigers Scouting Department. Prior to his stint as crosschecker he spent the 1997 season as the South East Supervisor for the Tigers and before that was an Area Scout with Detroit from 1990-96. Detroit's 1997 & '98 first round picks (RHP Matt Anderson & RHP Jeff Weaver) each made it to the big leagues during their first professional seasons and in 1997 he signed the Tigers' 6th round pick, RHP Brian Moehler. He was named Detroit's Scout of the Year in 1996 and in 1997 the Tigers were named Organization of the Year by Baseball America.

John played his collegiate ball at North Carolina State University and played professionally in Italy for two seasons in 1983-84 before returning to his alma mater, spending six seasons from 1985-90 as the Pitching Coach/Recruiting Coordinator with the Wolfpack before becoming an area scout with the Tigers after the 1990 draft. While at North Carolina State, John received a bachelor's degree in business management.

He and his wife, Mirella, reside in Westlake and have two children named Tina (22) and Tommy (19). Tommy is a freshman at the University of Kansas after being selected by Pittsburgh in the 24th round of the 2012 First-Year Player Draft.

Brad Grant

Director, Amateur Scouting

Brad Grant begins his 20th season with the Indians and his sixth as Director of Amateur Scouting after being named to the position in November of 2007. He spent the previous eight seasons as the club's Assistant Director of Scouting.

Brad directs all elements of the First-Year Player Draft – providing evaluations and managing the club's fifteen (15) Area Scouts and six (6) Crosscheckers around the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada in advance of the June draft.

Grant has overseen five drafts that are generally regarded as some of the most successful in Cleveland's draft era, while securing a number of international free agent signings. Collectively, those efforts have yielded the likes of Jesus Aguilar, Cody Allen, Scott Barnes, Lonnie Chisenhall, Jason Kipnis, Francisco Lindor, Tyler Naquin, Dorssys Paulino, Ronny Rodriguez and Danny Salazar - all of whom have already impacted the Major League club or currently reside among the organization's top 10 prospects entering 2013 according to Baseball America. The same publication rated the Tribe's 2010 draft the best among baseball's 30 organizations.

Grant's tenure with the Indians began in 1994 as an intern in the marketing department. He started his career in the baseball operations department in 1995 as the intern in scouting and then moved to a full-time position as Assistant, Scouting Operations in 1996. In 1999 he was appointed to the position of Assistant Director of Scouting.

He graduated in 1994 from Miami University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in communications. He swam 4 years at Miami and was a high school All-American swimmer at University School in Hunting Valley, OH.

Brad resides in Rocky River, OH with his wife, Kate. They have a daughter, Margaret (11), and a son, Will (7). His brother-in-law, Lee MacPhail, is currently a scout for the Seattle Mariners.

Steve Lubratich

Director, Pro Scouting

Steve Lubratich enters his 12th season with the Indians organization and first as Director of Pro Scouting after spending the previous 11 years as Director of Player Personnel. In his new role, Lubratich will oversee all phases of the organization's professional scouting efforts. The 2013 season will mark his 37th year in professional baseball.

Prior to joining the Indians, Lubratich served as the Assistant General Manager for the Detroit Tigers for six seasons from 1996-2001. With the Tigers he assisted then General Manager Randy Smith in all phases of the club's baseball operations department.

Lubratich's professional playing career began in 1977 out of the University of California-Riverside. He appeared in 64 games for the California Angels in 1981 and '83 while in between leading the Pacific Coast League in doubles (43) & hits (181) for Spokane in 1982. He joined the Padres organization in 1985 as a player/coach before launching into a minor league managerial career from 1988-91 in the San Diego system. During his tenure as coach and manager in the Padres minor league system he helped develop future major leaguers Roberto & Sandy Alomar, Joey Cora, Bip Roberts, Shane Mack, Jose Valentin, Doug Brocail & Ricky Bones.

In his first season of managing at Spokane in 1988, he led the club to the Northwest League title before moving on to Class A Riverside in 1989 and to AA Wichita in 1990-91. He was an advance scout with the San Diego Padres from 1992-94 before serving as Randy Smith's Assistant General Manager in 1995 before he and Smith moved on to the Tigers from San Diego.

Steve was a NCAA Division II All-American shortstop at the University of California-Riverside in 1977 and was later inducted into the UC-Riverside Sports Hall of Fame.

Steve and his wife, Deborah, reside in Lee, NH. Steve has two adult children, Brandt and Natalie, and one grandson.

Derek Falvey

Director, Baseball Operations

Derek Falvey begins his sixth season with the Indians and second as the Director of Baseball Operations after being named to the position in December of 2011.

As Director of Baseball Operations, Derek contributes to all aspects of amateur and professional player procurement and assists Chris Antonetti and Mike Chernoff in financial, statistical, and contractual dealings. He also oversees the Baseball Operations' internship program and works closely with the organization's Professional Scouts.

Falvey's tenure with the organization started in November 2007 when he began an internship in Baseball Operations. In his first three years with the club, Derek assisted both the Amateur and International Scouting Departments before spending the 2011 season as Assistant Director of Baseball Operations.

Derek played varsity baseball as a pitcher at Trinity College in Hartford, CT where he earned a degree in economics in June 2005. After graduating, Falvey returned home to the Boston, MA area where he worked until joining the Indians in the fall of 2007.

Derek resides in Rocky River, OH with his wife, Meghan.

Ramon Pena

Director, Latin American Operations

Ramon Pena is beginning his fourth season as the club's Director of Latin American Operations after being named to the post on November 6, 2009.

Ramon is a well-respected veteran entering his 32nd season of professional scouting whose career has included 4 years with the Kansas City Royals (1982-85), 21 years with the Detroit Tigers (1986-2006) and 3 years with the New York Mets (2007-09). During his time with the Tigers, he was elevated from an area scouting position in Latin America to Special Assistant to GM Dave Dombrowski and then held the same role in support of GM Omar Minaya upon his transition to the Mets. Pena has covered territories in Europe, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Australia and the Northeast U.S., signing more than 50 players that have reached the Major League level, including: Danny Bautista, Frank Catalanotto, Francisco Cordero, Juan Encarnacion, Bobby Higginson, Omar Infante, Jose Lima, Fernando Rodney and Ramon Santiago, to name a few. Ramon was honored as Detroit's 1997 scout of the year. He served as the Sports Advisor to former Dominican Republic President Leonel Fernandez for eight years and is currently holding the same position with newly elected President Danilo Medina. He has worked as GM for four different Dominican Winter League Clubs, Caimanes (1985-1986), Toros (1988-1989), Escogido (2000-2002) and Gigantes (2008-2009).

Ramon was born in Moca, Dominican Republic and was raised in New York City. He attended DeWitt Clinton HS, where he earned letters in track & field and baseball. He attended Central Arizona JC and later the University of Tampa, where he played baseball. He then signed with Pittsburgh and played two minor league seasons (SS & OF). Ramon lives in Santo Domingo, DR with his wife, Deyanira, and has eight children: Lani, Randy, Senoni, Eric, Kelly, Ramon Jr., Brian and Nomar.

Wendy Hoppel

Director, Baseball Administration

Wendy Hoppel begins her 29th season in the Indians Baseball Operations department and her 11th season as the club's Director of Baseball Administration after being promoted to the position on May 31, 2000.

As Director of Baseball Administration she oversees all facets of the organization's administrative support, concentrating in the areas of minor league player contracts and financial administration. Specifically, she manages the budgets for the major league club and the Tribe's player development system, as well as the contract tenders/payroll of the minor league domestic and foreign players. In addition, she coordinates all of the travel and living arrangements among the six (6) minor league clubs and the organization's 150+ minor leaguer players during spring training and the regular season; processes the working visas for the club's foreign-born players; and coordinates and administers the Major League Baseball College Scholarship plan for former and current Cleveland Indians' players.

Wendy's tenure with the club began in June of 1984 when she was hired as an assistant to then Farm & Scouting Director Bob Quinn. Hoppel earned a degree in applied business from Bowling Green State University after graduating from Bowling Green Senior High School.

Wendy resides in Lakewood with her daughter, Grace.

Carter began his tenure with the Indians in 2008 as the Advance Scouting Intern and progressed into a full-time role in Professional Scouting in 2009.

As the Assistant Director of Player Development, Carter assists Ross Atkins in the design and execution of all elements of Player Development policies, procedures and processes as well as in the management of all Player Development Staff.

Carter graduated magna cum laude from Vanderbilt University in 2007 with a degree in Human and Organizational Development and was a 4-year letter winner as a catcher for the Commodore baseball team.

Alex Eckelman

Advance Scouting Coordinator

Alex Eckelman begins his fourth season with the Indians and his second as Advance Scouting Coordinator. In this role he is responsible for managing the club's advance scouting process and assisting the Major League coaching staff with scouting and analysis both at home and on the road. Eckelman originally joined the Indians organization in 2010 as an Advance Scouting Intern and transitioned into the role of Assistant Director, Pro Scouting in 2011, handling analysis and Major League advance reports on upcoming opponents while also assisting with oversight of the club's Pro Scouting operations.

Alex, 38, played professional baseball for nine years from 1997-2005 in the Houston and St. Louis organizations including parts of three seasons at the Triple-A level. Following his playing career he coached in the Astros system in 2007. Alex graduated from The Ohio State University, where he played varsity baseball from 1994-97 and was elected to the Varsity "O" Hall of Fame in 2006 in a class that included Eddie George. He concluded his minor league career with a batting average of .274 (706-2578) in 804 games.

Alex and his wife, Katie, have two children, Mason and Samantha.

Jason Lynn

Assistant Director, International Scouting

Jason Lynn begins his sixth season with the Indians and first as Assistant Director of International Scouting after being named to the position in December 2012. Jason began his tenure with the Indians in 2008 and spent three years working in Player Development and Scouting before accepting a full time role in 2011 as the Scouting Operations Assistant.

As the Assistant Director of International Scouting, Jason assists in managing the organization's International Scouting personnel and scouting efforts of both Professional and Amateur players in a variety of countries, including Japan, Korea, Cuba, Taiwan, Australia and Europe.

A 2007 graduate of Babson College, Jason received a degree in Business Management and was also a member of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars.

Jason is single and resides in downtown Cleveland.

Victor Wang

Assistant Director, Pro Scouting

Victor Wang enters his fifth season with the Indians and first since being elevated to Assistant Director of Pro Scouting. In his current role, Victor supports the day-to-day scheduling and coordination of the Tribe's professional scouts, assists with scouting coverage and fulfills a variety of other responsibilities within the Baseball Operations Department.

Wang joined the Cleveland organization in a full-time capacity in June 2012 as a Baseball Operations Assistant after spending the previous three summers as a Baseball Operations & Analytics Intern. Prior to joining the Indians, Victor wrote for the Hardball Times.

Victor grew up in Bloomington, Minnesota and later graduated from Northwestern University in June 2012 with a BA in Economics. He currently resides in downtown Cleveland.

Dr. Charles Maher

Sport Psychologist and Director of Psychological Services

Charlie Maher enters his 18th season with the Cleveland Indians organization as Sport Psychologist and as Director of Psychological Services. Charlie oversees the mental and emotional development as well as the performance enhancement of all players at the major league and minor league levels. In addition, he is involved in leadership assessment and development of Indians staff on both business and baseball operations sides, and he conducts psychological assessments of player prospects for the annual draft. Furthermore, Charlie also is Director of the Employee Assistance Program, coordinates organizational development projects, and conducts special psychological studies on team development and workplace interventions.

Charlie is a licensed psychologist and a fellow of a number of psychological societies, including the American Psychological Association and the American Psychological Society. He holds a Diplomate from the American Board of Administrative Psychology, another from the American Board of Sport Psychology, and he is a Certified Consultant of the Association of Applied Sport Psychology. He possesses a range of graduate degrees and professional certifications in psychology, education, and business. Charlie is the author of the recently published book, The Complete Mental Game of Baseball: Taking Charge of the Process, On and Off the Field.

Before coming to the Indians, Charlie worked for a decade as a sport psychologist for the Chicago White Sox and also served as sport psychology consultant for the New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers and other teams. Currently, Charlie also is team psychologist for the Cleveland Cavaliers and the Cleveland Browns, for Rutgers University football and its men's and women's basketball teams and performance consultant for the New York Rangers. He has consulted with the mental conditioning department at the IMG Academies in Bradenton, FL and other performance institutes worldwide. His practice in sport psychology has included professional athletes in football, tennis, basketball, baseball, boxing, horse racing, and other sports.

Outside of professional sports, Charlie is a Professor Emeritus of Psychology at the Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology, Rutgers University. He has been the editor of two professional journals, sits on the editorial boards of several peer-reviewed scientific journals, and is author of numerous books and scientific publications in sport psychology, management, program planning and evaluation, and special education.

Charlie resides in Cleveland and New Jersey with his wife, Ann, who is a family nurse practitioner. They have two adult children, Dr. Jennifer Maher and Dr. Brian Maher, both of whom are psychologists, and three grandchildren.

Tim Belcher

Special Assistant, Baseball Operations

Tim Belcher, 51, is in his 12th season with the Indians organization and 10th as a Special Assistant, a role he also held from 2002-09 and resumed in 2012. In his current position, Belcher is in uniform during Spring Training to assist the Major League and Player Development staffs with instruction and personnel decisions. He maintains these responsibilities throughout the regular season and also performs scouting duties on an as-needed basis. From 2010-11, he served as Indians Major League Pitching Coach, overseeing a staff that lowered its team ERA in both seasons with the help of one of the most effective bullpens in the American League.

The Sparta, Ohio native compiled a Major League pitching record of 146-140 with a 4.16 ERA over a 14-year career from 1987-2000 with seven major league teams and 373 starts (394G, 2442.2IP, 2423H, 1130ER, 1519SO). He won 10-or-more games in 9 of his 14 seasons at the big league level, topped the 200.0 IP mark seven times and finished in the top 10 in his respective league's ERA on three different occasions. Belcher won the Sporting News National League Rookie Pitcher of the Year honors in 1988 with the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers. He was the first overall selection in both the 1983 June amateur draft (Minnesota) and the 1984 January secondary phase amateur draft (New York-AL). Belcher was an All-American pitcher at Nazarene University in Mount Vernon, Ohio in 1983 prior to being drafted.

Jason Bere

Special Assistant, Baseball Operations

Jason Bere begins his eighth season in a front office role with the Indians, returning as a Special Assistant to Baseball Operations. His primary responsibility with the organization is to evaluate pitchers within the Indians Player Development system during the regular season. Jason will spend most of spring training in uniform providing instruction and development at the major and minor league levels.

Bere, 41, pitched parts of 11 seasons in the big leagues from 1993-2003, posting a career Major League record of 71-65 with a 5.14 ERA in 211 games/203 starts (1111.0IP, 1095H, 634ER, 626BB, 920K) and was an All-Star in 1994 with the Chicago White Sox. Travis Fryman

Special Assistant, Baseball Operations

Travis Fryman begins his sixth season in the Indians Player Development system and his first as a Special Assistant to Baseball Operations. Fryman spent the 2011 and 2012 campaigns as the organization's minor league Infield Coordinator after managing Short-A Mahoning Valley for three seasons from 2008-10. He took the Scrappers to the New York Penn League finals in 2009.

Fryman, 44, retired in 2002 following a 16-year playing career that saw him spend parts of 13 seasons at the Major League level with the Detroit Tigers (1990-97) and Cleveland Indians (1998-2002). He compiled a .274 batting average with 223 HR and 1,022 RBI over 1,698 career games, earning the A.L. Silver Slugger Award at shortstop in 1992. Fryman was selected to five A.L. All-Star teams (1992-94, 1996, 2000) and represented the Tribe as the league's starting third baseman in the 2000 Mid-Summer Classic. He was also honored with a Rawlings Gold Glove that same season, while batting a career-best .321 with 22 HR and 106 RBI.

Travis and his wife, Kathleen, reside in Molino, FL with their three sons: Mason, Branden and Cole.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Mike Seghi, Director of Team Travel

Mike Seghi begins his 40th season as the Tribe's Director of Team Travel. Mike's career with the ball club began in September of 1974 after he graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1973 with a degree in education.

Mike coordinates all of the Major League club's travel plans during spring training, the regular season and postseason. His 40-year run as a club travel director is the longest such tenure in Major League Baseball today.

He served as the Traveling Secretary for the Major League Baseball All-Star teams that toured Japan in 1990 &1992. He was the winner of the Frank Gibbons/Steve Olin Good Guy Award in 1981.

Mike and his wife, Patty, reside in Rocky River, Ohio and have two daughters, Brittany and Michelle. Mike's father, Phil, was the Tribe's General Manager from 1973-85.

Tony Amato, Home Clubhouse & Equipment Manager

Tony Amato begins his 11th season as the Tribe's Home Clubhouse and Equipment Manager.

Amato worked in the home clubhouse as an assistant to the clubhouse manager for 15 seasons from 1988-2002, starting under Cy Buynak in Cleveland Stadium. He got his start with the Tribe by winning the last WWWE/Sun Newspapers BatBoy Essay Contest in 1988 and spent that season as a ball and bat boy. Along with working home games in the Indians clubhouse, Tony taught physical education to developmentally handicapped students at Our Lady of Angels/St. Joseph's for three years from 1999-2002.

The Normandy High School graduate earned a bachelor's degree in Marketing and a master's degree in Sports Administration from Cleveland State University in 1997. Tony is long-time fan of the Cleveland Browns, manages a small stable of harness racehorses and resides in Parma, OH.

Marty Bokovitz, Assistant Home Clubhouse & Equipment Manager

Marty Bokovitz begins his seventh season as the club's Assistant Home Clubhouse and Equipment Manager. Marty assists Home Clubhouse and Equipment Manager Tony Amato in all phases of the Indians home clubhouse operations. He also handles equipment acquisitions for the club's Player Development System.

Bokovitz, 41, has worked in the Indians home clubhouse for the last 24 seasons since joining Cy Buynak's staff during the 1989 season at Cleveland Stadium. Marty graduated from Parma (OH) Senior High School in 1990, attended the University of Akron and worked for the City of Parma for 16 years from 1991-2006.

Marty is single and resides in downtown Parma, OH.

Willie Jenks, Visiting Clubhouse Manager

Willie Jenks begins his seventh season as the Progressive Field Visiting Clubhouse Manager. He was named the 2008 MLB Visiting Clubhouse Manager of the Year.

Jenks has also worked in the Home Clubhouse during Spring Training, assisting Tony Amato and Marty Bokovitz for 7 weeks in Goodyear, AZ prior to heading north to prepare the Visiting Clubhouse. Jenks has also served as a head Equipment Manager in each of the first three World Baseball Classic tournaments for the Netherlands (2006), Team Venezuela (2009) and Team USA (2013).

Jenks, who began working under Cy Buynak in the Visiting Clubhouse during the 1996 season, is a native of Brecksville, OH and graduated from Holy Name High School and the University of Akron.

Willie resides in Brecksville, OH with his wife, Danielle, and their daughter, Hannah.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Bob Chester, Director, Video Operations

Bob Chester begins his 18th season as Director of Video Operations with the Cleveland Indians organization as he enters his 28th year in professional sports.

Chester and his staff are responsible for providing all aspects of video related services pertaining to player development - specifically, self-scout, advanced scouting analysis, the draft, medical service videos and all minor league affiliate video.

Bob began his career in professional sports as a video director for the Cleveland Browns, producing the Emmy-nominated Browns Insider and Bill Belichick shows. Bob's previous experience includes teaching Electronic News Gathering and Post Production Editing classes at LCCC and managing local origination programming for TCI. Bob helped pioneer the formulation of the Professional Baseball Video Coordinators Association and was elected by his peers as their President for two consecutive years.

He and his wife Lynn reside in Medina, OH. They have three children and four granddaughters.

Frank Velotta, Assistant Director, Video Operations

Frank Velotta begins his 19th season as a video coordinator with the Indians and his first since being promoted to Assistant Director. Frank assists Director Bob Chester with all video aspects of advance scouting and self-scout analysis, working alongside players, coaches, and front office personnel. His role also includes creating instructional video for the Strength & Conditioning department, the Medical Services team, and the Minor League staff. Frank also manages a team of minor league video coordinators that assists each Indians affiliate in the development of young talent.

Frank was an intern for the Baseball Video Operations Dept. in 1995 before becoming a full-time associate in 1996. He graduated from Cleveland State University in 1996 where he earned his bachelor's degree in Communications, specializing in audio/video production. He is also a founding member of the Professional Baseball Video Coordinators Association (PBVCA), which formed in 2004. Frank is an avid musician who enjoys playing the drums on and off the stage.

Frank resides in Parma with his wife, Angel, daughter, Josephine, and son, Frank.

Bart Swain, Director, Baseball Information

Bart Swain begins his 22nd season with the Indians and his 18th campaign in his present capacity as the Director of Baseball Information. He serves as the club's primary contact for all baseball PR initiatives, overseeing aspects of media services and player relations, in addition to the production of game day information and baseball research.

The 43-year-old native of Elyria, Ohio first joined the Indians in 1992 and spent the Tribe's final two seasons at Cleveland Stadium as an intern in the Media Relations Department. He joined the Indians in a full-time capacity in 1994 and became the Director of Media Relations the following season.

Swain graduated from Elyria High School in 1988 and from Ohio University in 1992 with a degree in business. He resides in Rocky River, Ohio with his wife, Carrie, and their three children, Joe, Luke and Livia. His dad, Mike, played basketball and baseball for the Ohio State University from 1966-68.

Court Berry-Tripp, Coordinator, Baseball Information

Court Berry-Tripp begins his seventh season in MLB and second with the Indians after joining the club's Baseball Information Dept. in January 2012. In this role, Court assists Director Bart Swain with all aspects of the club's baseball PR efforts and travels with the team periodically.

Prior to coming to Cleveland, Berry-Tripp spent four seasons with the Texas Rangers Baseball Media Relations Dept. from 2008-11 and assisted with the club's World Series appearances in 2010 and 2011. His career started in 2007 as an intern in the Minnesota Twins Baseball Communications Dept., which included a five-week stint at the team's Dominican training academy in Boca Chica.

Court, 30, graduated from Miami University (OH) in 2005 with a business degree and also earned an MBA in Professional Sports Mgt. from San Diego State University in 2007. He grew up in Rochester, Michigan, a suburb of Detroit, and currently resides in downtown Cleveland with his wife, Becca.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

LONNIE SOLOFF begins his tenth season as the Head Athletic Trainer with the Cleveland Indians after spending five years as Assistant Athletic Trainer and physical therapist for the Cincinnati Reds. In 2006 Lonnie was promoted as the organization's Director of Medical Services where he oversees all aspects of the club's medical, rehabilitation and strength and conditioning programs.

Lonnie and his staff are widely respected around the professional sports industry and following the 2007 campaign the Indians Athletic Training and Medical staffs were recognized as MLB's best by a membership of their peers, PBATS and Baseball Prospectus, a leading baseball research and content organization. He was also a member of the 2012 Athletic Training Staff at the All-Star Game in Kansas City.

While attending St. Louis University, Lonnie received a bachelor's degree in exercise science, a master's degree in physical therapy and attained his certification in athletic training. Lonnie has taken an active role in teaching orthopedics and baseball sports medicine, which has enabled him to lecture nationally and participate in research studies. The 38-year old is a member of the NATA and APTA and began his career in baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1996 as part of the PBATS internship program.

Lonnie, a native of New Orleans, resides in Avon Lake, OH with his wife and three children.

JEFF DESJARDINS, 39, is entering his fourth season as an Assistant Athletic Trainer on the Major League staff and his 13th season in the Indians organization.

Desjardins spent 9 seasons as a minor league athletic trainer in the Cleveland Indians Player Development System from 2001-09. He spent three seasons (2007-2009) serving a dual role as the Indians Athletic Training Coordinator and Athletic Trainer at the club's Triple-A affiliates in Buffalo, NY and Columbus, OH. In 2005 and 2006, he was the Athletic Trainer for the Indians AA Akron affiliate. In 2006 he was named the Eastern League Athletic Trainer of the Year and was selected to represent the Indians in the Arizona Fall League. He held the same position in Kinston, NC in 2004 and in Lake County, OH in 2003. Desjardins originally joined the Indians organization in 2001 as the athletic trainer in Burlington, NC and served in that role for two seasons.

A graduate of Plymouth State College in Plymouth, New Hampshire, Desjardins is a certified athletic trainer and a certified strength and conditioning specialist. He is also an American Red Cross First Aid and CPR Instructor for the professional rescuer.

The Gorham, Maine native currently resides in Cleveland with his wife and son.

MICHAEL SALAZAR begins second season as Major League Assistant Athletic Trainer.

Salazar, 37, spent the previous 12 seasons as a Minor League Athletic Trainer in the Cleveland Indians Player Development system after joining the organization in 2000. Salazar spent two seasons (2010-2011) as the Athletic Trainer for the Triple-A Champion Columbus Clippers. He also spent three seasons at Double-A Akron (2007-2009) and has spent at least one season at every current Indians Minor League affilaite .

Prior to working with the Tribe, Michael spent one year in the Atlanta Braves organizaion in a similar capacity. Michael was the Head Athletic Trainer for the Dominican Republic World Baseball Classic squad in both 2006 and 2009 and this off-season worked in the same capacity for Aguilas in the Dominican Winter League.

Michael obtained his under graduate degree at Manchester College (IN) and completed his graduate work at the University of Alabama at Birmingham. A native of Chicago, IL, he now resides in Cleveland.

JIM MEHALIK enters his 19th season with the Cleveland Indians, serving in 2013 as a physical therapy consultant. Along with Lonnie Soloff and the Athletic Training Staff, Jim coordinates the rehabilitation and physical therapy programs for the organization's injured players.

After graduating from Ohio State in 1988 with a degree in Allied Health Sciences, Jim was a staff therapist at Lorain Community Hospital and later was the Director of Rehabilitation at Lutheran Hospital from 1993-2010. In 2010 he assumed his current role as a Clinical Rehabilitation Manager at the Cleveland Clinic. Jim went on to earn his Doctor of Physical Therapy degree from the University of Montana in 2012.

Mehalik, 46, resides in Brunswick Hills, OH with his wife, Lisa, and their three children, Haley, Jacob and Hannah.

HISTORY OF TRIBE ATHLETIC TRAINERS

According to The Cleveland Indians Encyclopedia, Fred Weisman was the first full-time athletic trainer for the Indians. Starting with Weisman (1921-49), just five men have served as head trainer of the Tribe since 1921. Wally Bock (1950-70) followed Weisman. Jim Warfield (1971-96) followed Bock. Paul Spicuzza was head athletic trainer from 1996-2003.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

JOE KESSLER is in his fourth season as the Major League Strength and Conditioning Coach after being named to the position on January 8, 2010.

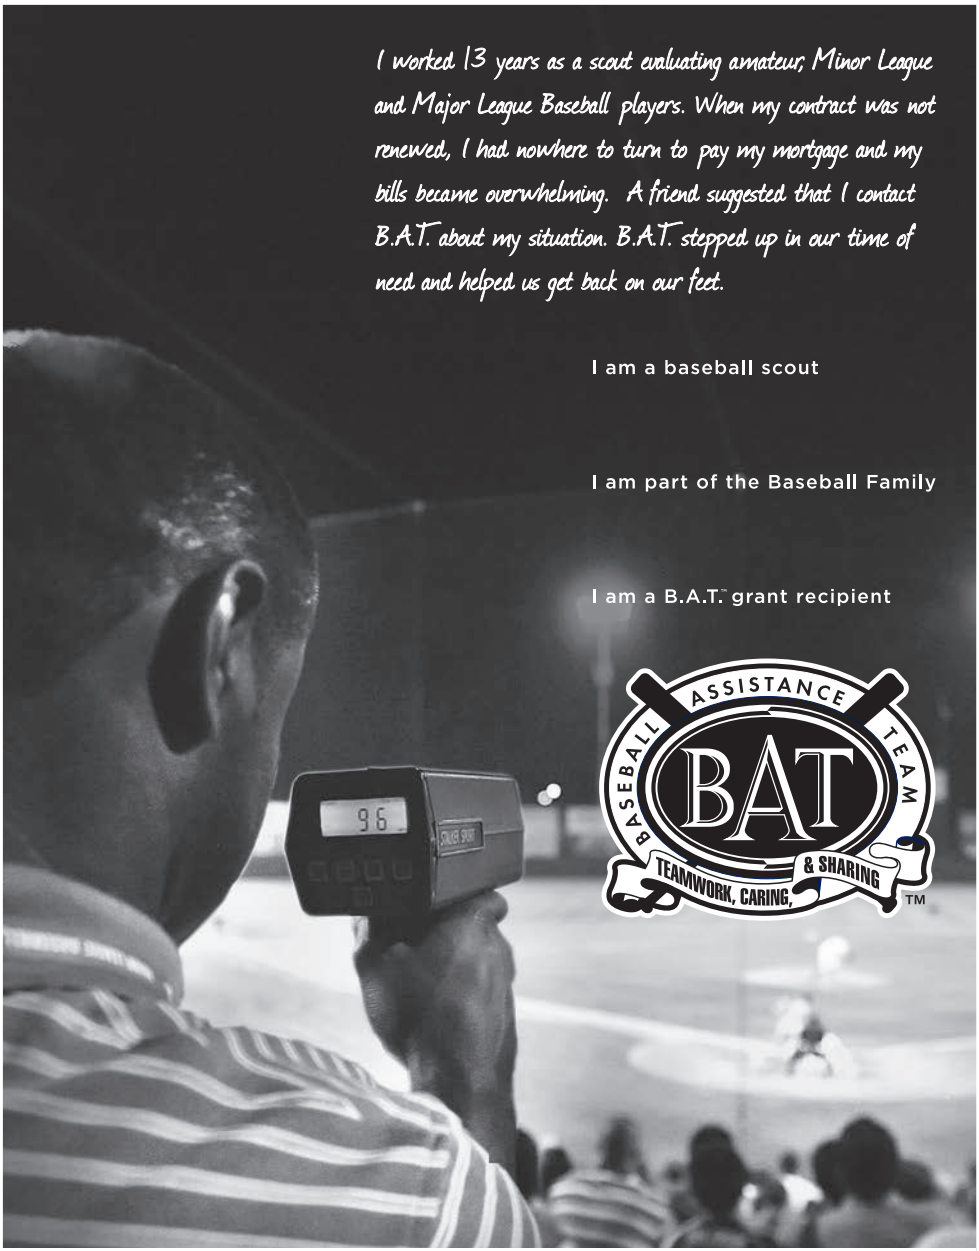
Kessler, 31, originally joined the Indians organization in March of 2009. He spent the 2009 season as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach in Goodyear, Arizona where he worked with players based out of the Goodyear complex and assisted those who were rehabilitating from previous injuries. Kessler's previous experience includes two years as the Director of Athletic Development for OAK Athletic Development in Bourbonnais, IL and also spent two seasons as a Strength and Conditioning Assistant with the Indianapolis Colts from 2005-07 after interning with the Chicago Bears in 2004.

Joe is a 2004 graduate of Illinois State University where he majored in kinesiology with a concentration in exercise science. He resides in Fairview Park with his wife and daughter. He is a big fan of Brady Hoke and the University of Michigan Football Wolverines.

TODD KUBACKI begins his sixth season with the Indians organization and first as the Minor League Strength and Conditioning Coordinator. Todd will be based out of the Goodyear, Arizona Player Development Complex and will spend his off-season conditioning the club's Major and Minor League players who reside in the valley.

The Austintown, Ohio native graduated Magna Cum Laude from Youngstown State in 2007 with a degree in political science with a mathematics minor and later volunteered in the YSU Athletics weight room following graduation. He joined the Indians as a strength intern at Lake County in 2008, spent 2009 in Akron, 2010-12 in AAA Columbus and was a part of three straight league championships from 2009-2011.

Todd, 28, is single and resides in Goodyear, Arizona.



I worked 13 years as a scout evaluating amateur, Minor League and Major League Baseball players. When my contract was not renewed, I had nowhere to turn to pay my mortgage and my bills became overwhelming. A friend suggested that I contact B.A.T. about my situation. Pro Career

◆ 2011 Put together a solid campaign before right wrist and hand problems ended his season on 8/22…At the time of his injury was tied for 25th in the AL and 2nd on the team in runs scored (63) and tied for 17th in triples (4)…Was placed on the 60-day DL on 8/23 and underwent right hand surgery at the Cleveland Clinic (Dr. Thomas Graham) on 8/31 to remove a fractured hamate bone in his right hand…Was limited to just 14 games in August (.211, 12-57) due to right hand and wrist soreness...On the year he made 46 starts in center field (52G) and 62 starts in left field (66G)…Made 1 start at DH…Notched his 4th career 4-hit game on 7/8 vs. Toronto (4-6, 2RBI)....Hit .294 (30-102) in July with 6 2B, 1HR & 11 RBI in 24 games.

◆ 2010 Was the club's opening day left fielder and spent three stints with Cleveland and ended the season in regular duty positioned to be a contributor in 2011...First two stints were not met with a great deal of success, hitting .156 (5-32) in April with a 2B, 3RBI in 9 games before being sent out to AAA Columbus on 4/19....Recalled again on 7/4 (Choo thumb injury) and hit .157 (11-70) in July w/a 2B, HR & 4RBI in 17 games before being optioned back on Columbus on 7/27...Spent the remainder of the season with Cleveland after 8/6 recall and rebounded to hit .292 (57-195) with 26RS, 7 2B, 3 3B,2HR & 15 RBI in 46 games (.332OB/.390SLG/.721OPS) to raise his avg from .157 to .246...Overall finished 7th among AL rookies in runs (38), 8th in hits (73), T3rd in triples (3) and T2nd in SB (10)...Hit first Major League home run on 7/8 at TB off Wade Davis to lead off the game...Defining moment of his season came during a then career-best 19 game hitting streak from 8/30-9/19 over which he hit .286 (26-91) w/1RBI...Was tied for the 4th longest streak in the AL in 2010...Was the longest hitting streak by an Indians rookie batter since Larry Doby (21G) in 1948 and longest overall since Casey Blake in 2007 (26G)...Overall he hit in 27 of his last 29 games from 8/30-on (.283, 36-127)...At Columbus he hit .319 (87-273) with 54RS, 13 2B, 2 3B, 4HR and 29RBI in 67G...At the time of his final 8/6 recall he ranked 2nd in the IL in average (.319)... Had two 12-game hitting streaks with the Clippers...Hit .353 (36-102) in June.

◆ 2009 Enjoyed a very productive season at AAA Columbus at just 22 years of age before an impressive September call-up in his debut at the Major League level...Hit .267 (122-457) with 80 runs, 21 2B, 2 3B, 6 HR and 37 RBI in 116 G for the Clippers and stole 46 bases in 51 attempts (90.2%)...He finished T1st in the IL in stolen bases (46) and 3rd in the league in runs (80)...Was 7th in the IL in walks (59) and struck out just 48 times in 528 plate appearance (1K:11PA)... Contract was purchased from Columbus on 9/1 and made his MLB debut that night in Detroit, collecting his first hit off Edwin Jackson in the 5th inning...Hit safely in his first 8 games with the Indians, just the 2nd Indians player in the last 50 years to hit safely in his first 8 games (Josh Bard, 2002, first 9 games)...Went 4-5 w/an RBI on 9/12 vs. KC, becoming the first Indian since Andy Allanson in April 1986 to have a four-hit game within his first 10 games played...Since 1954, he is the 7th fastest Indian to record a four-hit game (10g)...According to ELIAS only one Indians player has had a four-hit game at a younger age than Brantley (22 years, 120 days old) when Carlos Baerga recorded four hits against the Yankees on 9/20/90 at the age of 21 years, 320 days old...Was the 9th youngest player to appear in the AL in 2009.

◆ 2008 Brantley spent the entire 2008 season at Class AA Huntsville of the Southern League where he posted an on-base percentage of .395 with 80 runs...He was tied for 6th in Southern League in runs (80) & steals (28), was 7th in batting average (.319) and 12th in on-base %(.395) despite an ankle injury that limited him to 4 games in July...He had nearly twice as many walks (50) as strikeouts (27) and ranked second in the entire minor leagues w/a strikeout per plate appearance ratio of 17.7 (27K in 479 PA)...He was named to the Southern League mid-season and postseason All-Star Team and was named in Baseball America as the Best Baserunner and having the Best Strike Zone Judgment in the Southern League...After the season he was named the 18th best prospect in the Southern League by Baseball America...Entered 2009 as the 9th best prospect in the Indians organization according to Baseball America.

◆ 2007 Provided a second-half lift to an injured Rockies rotation, going 4-4, 4.28 (82.0IP, 39ER) in 15 games/starts after joining the club… Despite spending the first half in the minors, he ended up ranking 4th on the Rockies staff with 68 strikeouts…Was recalled from Triple-A Colorado Springs prior to the game on 7/17 at PIT, originally as another arm for a spent bullpen, but ended up taking slot of Taylor Buchholz in the rotation…Earned a win in 5 of his last 7 starts at Triple-A beginning 6/12, posting a 3.54 ERA (40.2IP, 16ER) in that stretch…Took no-decision in his Rox season debut on 7/19 at WAS... Earned his first MLB win on 7/29 vs. LAD, a 9-6 victory that secured the club's first series win against the Dodgers since '05…Received a no decision in his final start of the regular season on 9/30 vs. ARI; in a must-win game for Colorado to keep their playoff hopes alive, tossed 6.1 innings, allowing just one run on one hit with a career-high 10 strikeouts… Had a no-hitter for 5.1 innings before allowing a single to Alberto Callaspol... Jimenez went 0-1, 2.25 (16.0IP, 4ER) in 3 postseason starts for the 2007 Rockies…Made his postseason debut in Game 3 of the Division Series on 10/6 vs. PHI…Was charged with his first postseason loss in Game 2 of the World Series on 10/25 at BOS (4.2IP, 3H, 2ER).

◆ 2006 Jimenez's long-awaited MLB debut came in the form of 2 appearances for Colorado in late September…Split the rest of the year between Tulsa and Colorado Springs…Made his MLB debut in relief on 9/26 vs. LAD, allowed 2 hits in a scoreless 8th inning…Also started the season finale on 10/1 vs. CHC (6.2IP, 3H, 3ER)...Combined to go 14-4, 3.80 (151.2 IP, 64 ER) with 150 strikeouts in 26 games/starts in the minors…His 14 wins was most among pitchers in Rockies system, while the strikeout total ranked 3rd in the organization…Despite spending only 3 months in the Texas League, still ranked tied second among Drillers in wins and third in strikeouts…Opponents hit .194 at Double A...Went 7-0 in his final 8 starts, and allowed just one run in his last 5 games and 32.0 innings (0.28 ERA , .099 avg)… Was starting pitcher for North squad in Texas League All-Star Game...Named sixth-best Texas League prospect by Baseball America after the season…Was promoted to Triple-A on 6/30.

◆ 2005 Combined to go 7-8, 4.66 (135.1 IP, 70 ER) in 26 games/25 starts while returning from a shoulder injury…Ranked second in the Rockies system with 131 strikeouts…Began the year with Modesto of the High-A California League, a circuit he had briefly dominated in 2004 prior to injury…Went 5-3, 3.98 (72.1 IP, 32 ER) in 14 games/starts for the Nuts…Compiled a 2.91 ERA (43.1 IP, 14 ER) over his first 9 appearances…Was Cal League's starting pitcher for All-Star Game against Carolina League...Was promoted to AA Tulsa after that appearance.

◆ 2004 Missed the majority of 2004 due to a scapular stress reaction in his right shoulder (posterior shoulder strain)…In 44.1 innings, allowed only 29 hits (.184 average against) with 12 walks and 61 strikeouts…Made his first start on 4/9 vs. San Jose and had 12 K's in 6.0 innings while allowing only 2 hits and a walk…Was named the Organizational Player of the Month for April (3-0, 1.57 ERA)...Through his first 6 starts of 2004, was 4-0, 1.50 and had fanned 53 batters in 36 innings (13.25 per 9.0 IP)…At the time, the 20-year-old sat atop Baseball America's "Prospect Hot Sheet" of the best prospects in all of minor league baseball…Was pulled after just 3.0 innings during a 5/18 start vs. Stockton due to a right shoulder strain, an injury that would essentially end his season…Tried to make a comeback late in the year, getting a start on 8/1 vs. San Jose, only to be removed after 2 pitches because of discomfort in the shoulder… participated in the Fall Instructional League with no problems.

◆ 2003 In his first full season in the United States, ranked fourth in the South Atlantic League in strikeouts (138), fifth in innings (153.2) and tied fourth in starts (27) at Class A Asheville…Had a no-hitter for 7.1 innings during a 6/18 start at South Georgia, finishing with one hit over 8.0 innings…Was transferred to Visalia on 8/31 in time for the Cal League playoffs.

◆ 2010 Spent most the season in the Major League bullpen save for a 20 appearance stretch in AAA Columbus in May and June and ended the season as one of the Tribe's most effective relievers after a change in his mechanics... Opened the season in the Indians bullpen and went 0-1 w/a 7.71 ERA in his first 9 appearances (7.0IP, 7H, 6R/ER) before being optioned to AAA Columbus on 4/30…Was with Columbus from 4/30-6/22 and spent the remainder of the season with Cleveland...After his second recall had an ERA of 3.00 (33.0IP, 23H, 11ER, 18BB, 27K) and over his last 41 outings, 37 of which were scoreless, his ERA was 2.40 (30.0IP, 18H, 8ER)…From 7/31-on his ERA was 1.74 (20.2IP, 13H, 4ER, .181AVG)…Did not allow a run over his last 11 outings in Sept/Oct (9.2IP, 7H, 0R, 3BB, 11K) to lower his season ERA from 5.04 to 3.83...Was tied for 14th in the AL with a team-high 17 holds, 4th in %of inherited runners that scored (19%, 7/36) and 10th with a first batter average of .159 (7-44)…Right-handed hitters batted .160 (17-106) off him with a .538 OPS.

◆ 2009 Had a trying first season in the Indians organization from an injury standpoint and was effective over his 37 relief appearances between two official stints on the DL…Was limited to 8 appearances in spring training after being sidelined early in camp with a viral infection that required hospitalization…Came back from that in early March and was sidelined with a sore finger on his pitching hand…Opened the season on the big league roster and the rigors of the season caught up to him after his abbreviated spring…Was 0-1 w/a 7.11 ERA in 8 relief appearances in April (6.1IP, 7H, 5ER, 5BB, 6K) before right shoulder soreness forced him onto the 15-day DL on 4/29 (right rotator cuff strain)… Was on the DL from 4/29-6/8…Upon his activation to thru his 2nd DL stint in September he was 0-0 w/a 2.60 ERA in 29 games (27.2IP, 23H, 8ER, 24K)…From 6/20-8/16 he allowed a run in just 1 of 20 outings (0.96ERA, 18.2IP, 14H, 2ER) and from 7/17-8/16 he recorded 12 straight scoreless appearances (10.2IP, 8H, 0R)…Was placed on the 15-day DL a 2nd time w/a left knee sprain on 9/1 and missed the remainder of the regular season after making last outing on 8/29 at Baltimore…Underwent a left knee arthroscopy on 9/30 at the Cleveland Clinic to remove loose bodies from the joint…Surgery was performed by Dr. Mark Schickendantz & Dr. Jim Williams.

◆ 2008 Spent the entire 2008 season in the Mets bullpen, going 6-3 w/a 3.55 ERA in 82 games (63.1IP, 51H, 25ER, 31BB, 52K, 4HR), limiting Major League hitters to just a .220 (51-232) average allowed…Right-handed hitters batted just .192 (35-182) off him as he sported a .206 (14-68) average against overall w/RISP…He finished tied for 3rd in the NL w/82G (T3rd most in club history) and his inherited runners scored percentage of 17%(11 of 63) was the 2nd best mark in the NL (6th best in the Majors)…He went a club relief record 4-0 in September w/a 1.80 ERA in 14 appearances (10.0IP, 6H, 2ER, 11K)…His four victories in September were the most by any Mets relief pitcher in a month in one season... Was 16th in the NL w/18 holds…Did not permit an earned run over 18 outings (12.2 innings) from 8/12-9/17…Struck out seven consecutive batters spanning five appearances from 5/5-14.

SMITH (continued)

- 2007 Made his Major League debut after being drafted the previous June…Ranked fifth among NL rookie pitchers w/54 appearances…Had 45K in 44.1IP of work (9.14 strikeouts per nine innings)…Did not allow an earned run in 45 of his 54 outings…Hurled 15.1 scoreless innings in his first 17 major league outings to establish the club record for a rookie reliever to start his career…Dennis Musgraves held the previous mark, tossing 9.0 shutout frames in 1965…Began the year with New York…Was optioned to New Orleans (AAA) of the Pacific Coast League on 7/26…Recalled for a 2nd time on 9/16…Placed on the New Orleans DL on 8/24 with right biceps tendonitis…Came off the DL on 9/2…Earned his first major league victory on 4/24 vs. Colorado…Pitched in 14 games in April…Before Smith, no Mets rookie had even pitched 10 games in April…Made his major league debut with 0.1 scoreless inning on 4/1 at St. Louis…Named the John J. Murphy Award winner for the most impressive spring by a first-year invitee.
- 2006 Began his professional career with Brooklyn (A) of the New York-Penn League…Did not allow a run over his last 16 outings with the Cyclones (19.0IP)…Over that stretch, he gave up eight hits with (3BB, 26K)…Promoted to Binghamton (AA) of the Eastern League on 8/1…Named one of the top 20 prospects in the NYPL by Baseball America.

LOU BOUDREAU AND BOB FELLER AWARD RECIPIENTS FOR 2012

RHP CODY ALLEN was honored with the Bob Feller Award as the Indians' Minor League Pitcher of the Year, while OF TIM FEDROFF received the Lou Boudreau Award as the club's Minor League Player of the Year. Allen and Fedroff are scheduled to be formally recognized during a pre-game Spring Training ceremony in Goodyear, Arizona.

Allen, 24, pitched at 3 separate levels of the minor leagues in just his first full season as a professional, going 3-2 with a 1.87 ERA (9 ER/43.1 IP), 3 saves and a .166 average against across 31 relief appearances for High-A Carolina, Double-A Akron and Triple-A Columbus in 2012. The right-hander averaged 11.0 strikeouts-per-9.0 IP in the minors, tallying 53 strikeouts against just 9 walks. Selected by Cleveland in the 23rd round of the 2011 June draft, Allen then became just the second member of that class to reach the Major Leagues (RHP Trevor Bauer, Arizona) after making his debut with Cleveland on July 20. The Orlando, FL native began his major league career by tying a club record with 12 consecutive scoreless outings (13.2 IP) and went on to go 0-1 with a 3.72 ERA (12 ER/29.0 IP) and 27 strikeouts over 27 relief appearances as a valuable member of the Indians bullpen in the club's second half.

Fedroff, 25, split the 2012 campaign between Double-A Akron and Triple-A Columbus, hitting a combined .316 (148-468) with 79 runs scored, 23 doubles, 10 triples, 12 home runs and 54 RBI in 123 games (.394OB/.485SLG/.879OPS). Among hitters in the Indians Player Development system he finished 3rd in batting average and runs scored and led the organization in base hits. Upon his June 6 promotion to Columbus he went on to hit .325 (86-265) for the Clippers with 52 runs, 14 2B, 5 3B, 9HR & 32 RBI in 69 games, finishing 4th in the International League in average, 2nd in runs and 3rd in on-base pct. (.393) and OPS (.910) in that span. The Hillsborough, NJ native is a career .296 (555-1872) hitter at the Minor League level since being selected by Cleveland in the 7th round of the 2008 June draft out of the University of North Carolina.

GOODYEAR COMPLEX STAFF

Ryan Lantz — Manager, Arizona Operations

Ryan enters his tenth season with the Cleveland Indians and his seventh as Manager of Spring Training Operations. In this capacity, he is responsible for all business aspects of the organization out west at the Development Complex in Goodyear, AZ, such as facility operations, sponsorships, ticket sales, marketing initiatives, and serves as the local liaison between the organization and the community. Ryan previously was the Manager of Spring Training in Winter Haven, Florida before being permanently relocated to oversee the Arizona Operations.

He began his career with the organization in 2001 as an intern in the Sales & Marketing Department and then spent two seasons in the group sales department all the while being one of the most feared and dominant hot dog racers the sport has ever seen.

This Champion High School graduate earned his marketing degree from The Ohio State University in 2002 and currently resides with his wife, Lisa, in Goodyear, AZ.

Fletcher Wilkes — Clubhouse Manager

Fletcher enters his fifth season as the Clubhouse Manager of the Indians Player Development Complex in Goodyear, Arizona and his 20th year as a member of the Cleveland Indians organization. Wilkes is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the clubhouse in Arizona year-round while also overseeing the minor league clubhouse during spring training.

Fletcher began his career in the Indians organization as the Clubhouse Manager of the Columbus RedStixx in 1994 before moving on to Double-A Canton-Akron in 1996 and eventually Akron in 1997. In 2007, Wilkes served as the Assistant Visiting Clubhouse Manager in Cleveland before moving out to Arizona to assume his newly created duties. He has been responsible for running the minor league clubhouse in spring training since 1996.

A native of Phenix City, AL, Fletcher resides in Goodyear, AZ, with his wife, Allison, and two sons, Mason and Jackson. He graduated from Columbus (GA) College with a degree in Parks and Administration in 1994 and is an avid Alabama Crimson Tide fan.

2012 CLEVELAND INDIANS SEASON IN REVIEW

TRIBE AT A GLANCE: The Cleveland Indians finished the 2012 season with a record of 68-94 (.420) for a fourth-place standing in the American League Central Division...marked the third time in the last 4 seasons for the Indians to finish with a sub-.500 record...club's .420 winning pct. was 2nd-lowest in the A.L. ahead of Minnesota (.407, 66-96) and 26th in the majors...the Tribe was a season-high 8 games above the .500-mark on May 24 (26-18) and a season-low 28 games below the .500-mark on two occasions: Sept. 22 (62-90) & Sept. 24 (63-91)...at 37-32 (.536) through June 22, Cleveland owned the 6th-best record in the A.L. at that point before going 31-62 the rest of the way...the Indians were at or above the .500 mark for 103 of the first 114 days of the season thru July 27...club's last day to be above the .500 mark was July 26 following a 5-3 come-from-behind win over Detroit at Progressive Field, as Cleveland was still within 3.5 games of first place Chicago-AL after that victory; the Indians went 18-45 (.286) from July 27 on, a stretch that began with a season-high 11-game losing streak (July 27-Aug. 7) that saw Cleveland lose 7.0 games in the divisional standings, one defeat shy of matching the franchise record (12 straight losses, May 7-21, 1931)...the Tribe's longest winning streak of 2012 was 4 games, accomplished 3 separate times: April 13-17, May 14-17, June 18-22...Cleveland held a lead at some point in 35 of club's 94 losses.

A.L. CENTRAL STANDINGS: Cleveland finished the regular season in 4th place and 20.0 games behind first-place Detroit...of the 181 days in the Indians' season, Cleveland was in first place for 40 days, 2nd place for 47 days, 3rd place for 42 days, 4th place for 44 days and 5th place for 8 days...club's last day in first place was June 23...the Indians spent 82 consecutive days in either first or 2nd place from April 24-July 14, but were in 3rd, 4th or 5th place for 81 straight days to finish the season...the club held a season-high 4.0-game first-place lead in the division on May 17 (22-16) and trailed by as many as 20.5 games on Sept. 18 (61-87) & Sept. 19 (61-88)...the Indians were mathematically eliminated from the playoffs following a 5-3 loss on Sept. 15 vs. Detroit.

ATTENDANCE: Cleveland drew 1,603,596 fans to Progressive Field in 2012, the 18th time in 19 seasons since the construction of that ballpark (1994-2012) to draw at least 1.5 million people...Tribe's largest single-game crowd in Cleveland was 43,190 on April 5 vs. Toronto (Opening Day), which surpassed 1999 (42,830) for the highest attendance figure ever for a home opener at Progressive Field (1994-2012); club's largest single-game crowd on the road was 45,099 on June 27 at Yankee Stadium.

BASERUNNING: The Indians went 110-for-154 (71.4%) in stolen base attempts, the 7th-most steals in the A.L. and 12th in the majors; 71.4% success rate ranked 12th in A.L...the 110 steals was the highest total in 12 seasons for Cleveland since swiping 113 bags during the 2000 campaign, also the last time for the Tribe to reach triple digits...club's 154 attempts were T6th-most in the A.L. and T10th-most in the majors, also most for Cleveland since 177 attempts in 1997...the Tribe's record was 39-31 when recording at least one steal; 29-63 with no steals...JASON KIPNIS led the team with 31 steals (31-for-38), T6th-most in the A.L., most for Cleveland since GRADY SIZEMORE had 38 in 2008 and most by an Indians second baseman since ROBERTO ALOMAR swiped 39 in 2000.

BATTING: Cleveland batted .251 (1385-5525) as a team in 2012, 9th in the A.L...MICHAEL BRANTLEY finished with the highest qualifying avg. on the team at .288 (159-552)...club had the 6th-highest on-base pct. in the league at .324, but a .381 slugging pct. that ranked 13th...offense averaged 4.12 runs-per-game for a total of 667 runs, both 2nd-fewest in the A.L...the club drew 555 walks, 3rd-most in the A.L. and 4th in the majors, this while having 1,087 strikeouts, 3rd-fewest in the A.L. and majors...other offensive totals and A.L. ranks: 1385 hits (9th), 266 doubles (10th), 24 triples (9th), 136 home runs (136), 426 extra-base hits (13th), 635 RBI (13th), 2107 total bases (13th), 39 sacrifice flies (T9th), 17 sacrifice bunts (14th), 20 bunt hits (T5th), 125 infield hits (T8th)...club grounded into 141 double plays, 4th-most in A.L...Indians batters were hit-by-pitch 59 times, 3rd-most in the A.L. and 5th-most in the majors; SHIN-SOO CHOO was hit a team-high 14 times, T3rd-most in the A.L...team avg. by month: April-.245, May-.250, June-.263, July-.252, August-.231, September-.271, October-.149; team's .271 mark in Sept. was best in the A.L. and 6th in the majors...the Indians hit .239 (329-1374) with runners in scoring position as a team, 13th in the A.L.; club had a .232 avg. w/ RISP at home and a 247 mark w/ RISP on the road; Tribe had a .250 team avg. w/ RISP entering the All-Star break, but hit .226 w/ RISP in the 2nd "half".

DAYS OF THE WEEK: Records by days of the week - Monday: 9-9; Tuesday: 11-13; Wednesday: 9-16; Thursday: 11-7; Friday: 11-14; Saturday: 8-18; Sunday: 9-17...Tribe posted a .500-or-better record on 2 of the 7 days of the week (Mon./Thurs.), going 51-59 during the week and 17-35 on weekends.

2012 CLEVELAND INDIANS SEASON IN REVIEW

DAY & NIGHT RECORDS/SPLITS: Cleveland went 22-34 in day games and 46-60 in night games...club's 56 day games were 5th-most in the A.L., T10th-most in the majors...Indians batted .265 (519-1959) in day games, 5th-highest in the A.L., this while averaging 4.75 runs-per-game (266R/56G), 5th-most in the A.L...Tribe's .243 (866-3566) average in night games ranked 11th in the A.L., while the club's 3.78 runs-per-game (401R/106G) were fewest in the league...pitching staff had a 5.32 ERA (297 ER/502.1 IP) in days games and a 4.49 mark (469 ER/939.2 IP) under the lights.

DESIGNATED HITTERS: Cleveland DH's combined to bat .226 (129-571), the 2nd-lowest average in the A.L. ahead of Seattle (.214)...Tribe DH's also collected 22 home runs (10th), 72 RBI (11th) and a .702 OPS (11th)...2012 saw 12 different Indians start at DH: Hafner-61, Santana-27, Duncan-15, Lopez-10, Chisenhall-8, LaPorta-7, Cabrera-6, Canzler-6, Damon-5, Brantley-3, Kipnis-3, Phelps-2.

DIVISIONAL RECORDS: The Indians finished the season 31-41 (.431) against A.L. Central opponents, the club's 2nd-fewest number of victories within the division over the past 12 seasons (2001-12) behind only 2009 (30-42)... Cleveland went 7-11 vs. Chicago-AL, 10-8 vs. Detroit, 8-10 vs. Kansas City and 6-12 vs. Minnesota...club also went 15-21 (.417) against the A.L. West and 14-22 (.389) vs. the A.L. East, marking the 4th time in 19 seasons since 1994 Realignment for Cleveland to finish with a sub-.500 record against all 3 divisions...the Tribe had a major league-best 13-5 (.722) record against A.L. West teams through Aug. 13 before losing 16 of 18 to end the year.

DOUBLEHEADERS/POSTPONEMENTS: As the result of an April 10 rainout against Chicago-AL, the Indians played one split day-night doubleheader on May 7 at Progressive Field...Cleveland swept both games from the White Sox by scores of 8-6 and 3-2, respectively...with that pair of victories, the Indians improved to 12-2 in 7 doubleheaders over the past 3 seasons (2010-12) with 5 sweeps and 2 splits.

EXTRA-INNING GAMES: Cleveland played 13 extra-inning games in 2012, going 5-8...10 of those contests took place at Progressive Field with the club going 4-6; Tribe was 1-2 on the road in extras...the Indians played back-to-back extra-inning contests to start the season, including a 16-inning, 5-hour and 14-minute affair on Opening Day, a 7-4 loss to visiting Toronto; according to Elias, that contest established a major league record for the longest game ever on Opening Day in terms of innings played...the previous record for a season opener was 15 innings, which occurred twice: April 13, 1926, Philadelphia at Washington (1-0 Senators win) and April 19, 1960, Detroit at Cleveland (4-2 Tigers win)...club played 7 extra-inning games in the first "half" and 6 in the second "half", although 4 of those came in the Tribe's final 15 contests of the year.

FIELDING: Cleveland's defense posted a .984 fielding pct. INDIANS RETIRED UNIFORM NUMBERS

BOB FELLER — #19

Arguably the greatest right-handed pitcher of all-time, the Van Meter, Iowa native joined the Indians as a 17 year-old in 1936 and played 18 years with the Tribe. Feller compiled a lifetime record of 266-162 with a 3.25 ERA. He is the Indians all-time leader in shutouts (46), innings pitched (3,827), wins (266) and strikeouts (2,581).

Bob appeared in 8 All-Star games, more than any player in the history of the Indians and started the 1941 and 1946 games.

Feller won twenty or more games six times and won a career-best 27 games in 1940. Bob also led the league in strikeouts seven times and in 1946 he won 26 games and struck out 348 in 371.1 innings and the 348 strikeouts is still a single-season team record.

"Rapid Robert" tossed three no-hitters in his career. Feller's first no-hitter came on April 16, 1940 in a 1-0 victory at Chicago in 30-degree weather and it remains as major league baseball's only opening day, no-hitter.

Bob lost three years of his career serving in the military (1942-44) and saw limited action in 1945.

Bob Feller's #19 was retired by the Indians in 1957, the first number retired by the club, and he was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1962. Bob passed away on December 15, 2010 at the age of 92.

FELLER DEBUT

July 19, 2001 marked the 65th anniversary of Bob Feller's debut with the Indians on July 19, 1936. Bob took his big league bow in a relief appearance at Washington. The next month, Bob made his starting debut and recorded 15 strikeouts as Cleveland beat the St. Louis Browns 4-1 at League Park.

MEL HARDER — #18

Mel Harder's career spanned 20 seasons, the most by any player in Indians history. The Beemer, Nebraska native broke into the majors with the Indians in 1928 and he concluded his career after the 1947 season with a 223-186 record and a 3.80 ERA. He appeared in 582 games, more than any other Indians player and his 223 victories trails only Feller on the Indians all-time list.

Harder, a four-time A.L. All-Star played in the mid-summer classic in 1934 through 1937. Mel collected twenty victories twice, in 1934 (20-12) and 1935 (22-11) and reached double figures in victories 14 times. From 1932-39 Harder tossed more than 200 innings and won at least 15 games in each of those years. Mel is in the Indians all-time top ten in IP, shutouts, wins, strikeouts and games.

Harder led the Indians in innings pitched four times (1933-35 and 1937), wins five times (1934-35, 1937, 1938 and 1944), ERA four times (1933-35 and 1938), strikeouts three times (1933, 1935 and 1942) and complete games twice (1935 and 1944). After his playing career, he was the pitching coach for the Tribe from 1948-63.

Mel Harder's #18 was retired by the Indians in 1990. Mel passed away at the age of 93 on October 20, 2002.

EARL AVERILL — #3

Earl Averill played 13 seasons in the majors, 11 of those with the Indians. The Snohomish, Washington native broke into the league with the Tribe in 1929 and homered in his first plate appearance on April 16, 1929 and he batted .331 his rookie year. Earl retired after the 1941 season with a .318 lifetime average.

Averill was a six-time A.L. All-Star and started in the mid-summer classic three times, in 1936, '37 and '38. The left-handed hitting outfielder led the league with 232 hits and 15 triples in 1936. In 1931 he scored 140 runs which still represents an Indians single-season record.

Earl is the Indians all-time leader in runs scored (1,154), triples (121), home runs (226), extra-base hits (724), and total bases (3,200). Averill is one of six Tribe players to have hit for the cycle. He did it on August 17, 1933 vs. Philadelphia.

Earl was the first Indians player to homer three times in one game as he cracked three round-trippers on September 17, 1930 in consecutive at-bats. He collected 32 homers in 1931 and '32 and 143 RBIs in 1931. Both represent season-highs by a Tribe centerfielder.

Earl Averill's #3 was retired by the Indians in 1975, the same year that he was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame. He passed away on August 16, 1983 at the age of 81.

LOU BOUDREAU — #5

The Hall of Fame shortstop played in the majors for 15 seasons, 13 of those with the Indians, two with Boston. Lou was the Indians player-manager from 1942-1950 and led the Indians to their last World Championship in 1948.

With Boudreau at the helm, the Indians went 728-649 and he remains the all-time winningest manager in Tribe history. Lou also managed in Boston from 1952-54, in Kansas City from 1955-57 and he managed the Cubs in 1960.

Boudreau appeared in seven All-Star games, including three starting assignments in 1942, 1947 and 1948. In 1944 he led the A.L. with a .327 average and led the league in doubles three times with 45 two-baggers in 1941, 1944 and 1947.

Lou is in the Indians all-time top ten in games, ABs, hits, runs, doubles, RBI and extra-base hits.

In the championship season of 1948, Lou enjoyed his best season. He batted .355 with 18 home runs and 116 RBI. He collected 98 walks and struck out only 9 times in 560 at-bats.

Lou Boudreau's #5 was retired by the Indians in 1970, the same year that the Harvey, Illinois native was elected into baseball's Hall of Fame. Boudreau died on August 10, 2001 in Frankfort, IL at the age of 83.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER VOTES

Since the establishment of the current Most Valuable Player awards in 1931, six players have accumulated 400 or more MVP votes in a Tribe uniform. The group is led by Hall of Famers Lou Boudreau and Bob Feller. Boudreau garnered 896 votes from 1940-1949 and won the award in 1948. Feller earned 838 votes from 1939-1951. Albert Belle gained 835 votes from 1992-1996. Bob Lemon had 559 votes from 1948-1956. Manny Ramirez had 480 votes from 1995-2000. Al Rosen had 414 votes from 1950-1954 and won the award in 1953.

LARRY DOBY— #14

On July 3, 1947, Indians owner Bill Veeck signed Larry Doby to a major league contract. Two days later he appeared in his first American League game, becoming the first African American player in the league. This trailblazer enjoyed a magnificent 13-year big league career, ten of those seasons were spent in Cleveland with the Tribe.

Larry helped lead the Indians to their last World Championship in 1948. In the '48 W.S. he batted a team-leading .318 and his 400-foot homer off the Braves Johnny Sain won Game 4 for the Indians. In 1950 he was recognized as the game's best centerfielder by The Sporting News. He led the AL in home runs (32) and RBI (126) in 1954 and Larry was a six-time All-Star spanning 1949-1954.

Prior to joining the Indians, Doby was a standout for the Newark Eagles of the Negro National League. In 1946, Doby led the Eagles to the World Championship, batting .397. He was hitting .414 with the Eagles in '47 before signing with the Indians.

Larry finished his outstanding major league career following the 1959 season. In his career he clubbed 253 home runs, collected 970 RBI and owned a .283 (1515-5348) batting average.

Larry Doby's #14 was retired by the Indians on July 3, 1994, exactly 47 years after he shattered the race barrier in the American League. Was enshrined into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1998. Larry passed away at the age of 79 on June 18, 2003.

BOB LEMON — #21

Bob Lemon spent his entire 15 year major league career with the Cleveland Indians. Lemon was converted to a pitcher after serving in the Navy in World War II after a stint at third base in the big leagues with the Tribe in 1941 & '42. After converting to pitcher, Lemon was a member of "The Big Four" and became one of the dominant AL starters over his 13-year pitching career during the late 1940s and 1950s.

Lemon's pitching prowess left him as one of the best pitchers in the history of the Indians franchise. His seven (7) 20-win seasons are the most by any pitcher in the history of the franchise. He currently ranks 3rd in Indians history in wins (207), innings (2850.0IP), strikeouts (1277), starts (350) and shutouts (31). He is 4th in club history in appearances (460) and complete games (188) and is 5th in winning percentage (207-128, .618).

During the Tribe's last World Championship campaign of 1948, "Lem" went 20-14 with a 2.82 ERA and led the American League in complete games (20), shutouts (10) and innings pitched (293.2IP). The sinkerballer followed his regular season performance up with a 2-0 record in the World Series vs. the Boston Braves w/a 1.65 ERA in 2 starts. Overall, Lemon led the American League in wins three times, complete games five times, innings pitched four times and shutouts and strikeouts one time each. A 7-time AL All-Star, Lemon was named The Sporting News Pitcher of the Year in 1948, 1950 & 1954. An outstanding hitting pitcher, Lemon compiled a career average of .232 (274-1183) with 37 HR, which is one short of the All-Time record by a pitcher (Wes Ferrell-38). He owned a .284 (31-109) mark as a pinch-hitter.

After his playing career was over in 1958, Lemon managed for eight seasons in the majors with the KC Royals, Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees, compiling a mark of 430-403 (.516). He managed the New York Yankees to the World Series title in 1978 and the AL crown in 1981.

He was elected into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1976 and his number 21 was retired by the Indians on June 20, 1998.

Lemon passed away in Long Beach, California on January 11, 2000 after a lengthy illness.

BEST OWNERSHIP START

The Indians have never finished first in the first year of a new ownership. The Dolan ownership was only the second in club history to debut with a second place finish. Cleveland finished second in 1953 under the new ownership group with Myron H. "Mike" Wilson, Jr. as its president.

A CLEAN SWEEP

Prior to the 2001 Seattle Mariners, the last team to lead its league in batting average, earned run average, and fielding average in the same season was the 1948 World Champion Cleveland Indians. Cleveland also led the AL in all three categories in 1906. The only other teams to accomplish this feat are the New York Giants (1904, 1931), Chicago Cubs (1906, 1945), Philadelphia Athletics (1910), and St. Louis Cardinals (1944, 1946). (Based on data from Total Baseball, Sixth Edition.)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Former Indians General Manager Billy Evans was elected to the Hall of Fame in January, 1973. Former owner Bill Veeck was elected in 1991. Walter Johnson managed the club from 1933-35 and Hank Greenberg was General Manager from 1950-57.

GOLD AT SECOND, SHORT, AND THIRD

With 3 Gold Glove infielders in 2000 (Robbie Alomar, Omar Vizquel, and Travis Fryman), the Indians joined a select circle. Only one other franchise has had the Gold Glove winners at second base, shortstop, and third base in the same season. In 1969 and 1971, the Orioles captured Gold Gloves at all three positions (Second Baseman Dave Johnson, Third Baseman Brooks Robinson, Shortstop Mark Belanger) and did so again from 1973-75 (Second Baseman Bobby Grich, Robinson, Belanger).

FIRST DH IN CLUB HISTORY

The first regular season designated hitter for the Indians was John Ellis. Ellis batted clean-up on April 7, 1973 when the Tribe opened the season against the Tigers at Cleveland Stadium. In his first at-bat, in the first inning, Ellis grounded out from pitcher Mickey Lolich to first baseman NormCash. He went 0 for 4, but Cleveland won the game 2-1 behind starting pitcher Gaylord Perry. Oscar Gamble was Cleveland's most frequent DH in1973 (259 at-bats). Others to DH for Cleveland in 1973 were Dave Duncan, Ron Lolich, John Lowenstein, Charlie Spikes, and Walt Williams.

3000 HITS IN TRIBE UNIFORM

Of the 25 players in major league baseball history with 3,000 or more hits, three of them reached the hallowed mark in a Cleveland uniform: Nap Lajoie, Tris Speaker, Eddie Murray. Murray joined the 3,000 hit Club on June 30, 1995 against the Twins at the Metrodome in Minnesota. Speaker reached 3,000 hits on May 17, 1925 against the Washington Senators at League Park. Lajoie's 3,000th hit is less clear. Initially, his 3,000th hit was reported on September 27, 1914. Subsequent research found that Lajoie had nine hits in 1901 not previously recorded. Consequently, his 3,000th hit actually came on September 17, 1914 against Boston at League Park.

THE WINNINGEST DECADE

Cleveland won 904 games during the 1950s (1950-1959), the winningest decade in club history. Cleveland's 823 wins in the 1990s (1990-1999) were one win short of matching the 1930s (1930-1939) as the second winningest decade in franchise history.

OTHER NO-HITTERS

Earl Moore's 1901 no hitter (5/9/01) was one of those affected by a 1991 ruling regarding no-hitters. Moore pitched nine no-hit innings, but allowed hits in the 10th inning in a 4-2 loss against Chicago. One no hitter pitched against Cleveland prior to 1991 was also affected by the 1991 ruling. Tom Hughes (8/30/10) allowed a hit in the 10th and lost the game, 5-0, in the 11th. On April 12, 1992 Matt Young did not allow a hit in a 2-1 Tribe win over Boston at Cleveland Stadium. Young pitched the entire eight innings for Boston (Cleveland did not bat in the ninth), but, based on the 1991 ruling, did not receive credit for a no-hitter.

PINCH HITTING LEMON

According to The Great Book of Baseball Knowledge by David Nemec, Bob Lemon holds the record for highest career pinch-hit batting average by a pitcher (minimum 100 Pinch At-bats). Lemon had 31 pinch hits in 109 pinch-hit at bats for a .284 batting average from 1941 through 1958. Lemon spent his entire major league playing career with the Indians.

DID YOU KNOW?

According to the Elias Sports Bureau the 33 years without a 20-game winner (1975-2007) was the longest gap in Major League history, one year longer than the Phillies' 32-year streak from 1918 to 1949...The last Indians pitcher to be the first pitcher in the Majors to reach 20 wins was BOB LEMON in 1954 (August 29).

FELLER'S TRIPLE CROWN

For pitchers, an equivalent of batting's Triple Crown is leading the league in wins, strikeouts, and ERA in a single season. Bob Feller accomplished this feat in 1940 with 27 wins, 261 strikeouts, and a 2.61 ERA. Feller captured two legs of this Triple Crown in 1939 (24 wins, 246 strikeouts), 1941 (25 wins, 260 strikeouts), 1946 (26 wins, 348 strikeouts), and 1947 (20 wins, 196 strikeouts). Bob Lemon (23 wins, 170 strikeouts) in 1950 and Sam McDowell (2.18 ERA, 325 strikeouts) in 1965 also came within one title of the Triple Crown.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

Three members of the 1948 World Champion Cleveland Indians fathered sons who later also played in the World Series. Jim Hegan's son, Mike, played for the Yankees in the 1964 World Series, Ray Boone's son, Bob, played in the 1980 World Series, and Bob Kennedy's son, Terry, played in the 1984 World Series. Ray's grandson, Bret, appeared in the 1999 World Series for the Braves.

1948 AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNANT PLAYOFF GAME

vs. BOSTON RED SOX - INDIANS win A.L. pennant with an 8-3 victory

The 1948 regular season came to a close with the Indians and Boston Red Sox in a first-place tie with identical records of 96-58. This made necessary the first championship playoff game in American League history, and only the second ever playoff in major league history.

Monday, October 4 - at Boston (AL)

Rookie southpaw Gene Bearden, pitching with just one day's rest, fired a five-hitter, enabling the Indians to advance to the World Series with an 8-3 championship playoff victory. Lou Boudreau went four for four at the plate, belting two home runs and scoring three times. Third baseman Ken Keltner had three hits including a homer, double and three RBI. Larry Doby doubled twice and Jim Hegan drove in a run with an infield out. Second baseman Bobby Doerr had a two run homer for the Red Sox.

LONG TIME BETWEEN STARTS

When Dennis Martinez started in the second game for Cleveland in the 1995 World Series, he set a record for the longest time between his first and second World Series starts. His first World Series start came 16 years earlier with the Orioles in 1979. Another former Tribe pitcher, Steve Carlton, had held the record with 13 seasons between his first World Series start (with the Cardinals in 1967) and his second (with the Phillies in 1980). MISSING TWENTY

The 1995 Indians are one of just four teams in AL history to win 100 or more games without a 20-game winner. The others were the 1984 Tigers, 1941 Yankees, and 1915 Red Sox. Cleveland's win leaders in 1995 were Charles Nagy and Dennis Martinez, each with 16 wins. Nine NL teams have won 100 or more games without a 20-game winner. UNASSISTED TRIPLE PLAYS INVOLVING THE INDIANS

From 1901 until 1994, every unassisted triple play in American League history involved the Cleveland Indians. Cleveland's Neal Ball was credited with the first unassisted triple play in AL history on July 19, 1909. Three Tribe players (Frank Brower on September 14, 1923; Homer Summa on May 31, 1927; and Joe Azcue on July 29, 1968) have hit into unassisted triple plays. Cleveland's Bill Wambsganass turned the only unassisted triple play in World Series history on October 10, 1920. The first unassisted triple play in AL history not involving the Indians was on July 15, 1994 when Boston's John Valentin turned three against Minnesota.

THE PHANTOM ALL-STARS OF 1945

The 1945 All-Star Game was cancelled due to wartime travel restrictions. The Sporting News published NL and AL All-Star teams in its July 12, 1945 issue. Hall of Fame baseball writer Fred Lieb chose the players. According to TSN, "Lieb used the same system employed in former years, taking at least one player from every club and putting the World's Series managers of the preceding fall in charge." Players chosen from the Indians were Lou Boudreau, Frank Hayes, and Steve Gromek.

CLEVELAND ALL-STAR REVIEW

TOP THREE ALL-STAR CROWDS

72,086 at Cleveland Stadium on August 9, 1981
69,831 at Cleveland Stadium on July 8, 1935
68,751 at Cleveland Stadium on July 13, 1954

GAME ONE AT CLEVELAND STADIUM - July 8, 1935, American League 4, National League 1

A crowd of 69,831 - the largest throng to see an All-Star Game (until 1981 in Cleveland) - packed the lakefront Stadium for just the third mid-summer classic in history. The partial American League crowd was thrilled to a 4-1 junior circuit victory, the A.L.'s third straight All-Star win.

Jimmy Foxx belted a two-run homer in the first inning and the American Leaguers coasted to the win as Lefty Gomez and Mel Harder baffled the National League hitters.

GAME TWO AT CLEVELAND STADIUM - July 13, 1954, American League 11, National League 9

In a spectacular slugfest that set All-Star marks for runs and hits by the two clubs, the American League edged the National 11-9. The slugfest produced six home runs, including four by the A.L. The Indians' Al Rosen clubbed a pair of homers while he and his Cleveland teammates Bobby Avila and Larry Doby combined for eight RBI.

The 1954 contest was a wild seesaw contest which saw the lead change six times before the A.L. pulled out the 11-9 win with a three run rally in the eighth. Ironically, it was Nellie Fox's broken bat single over second base with the bases loaded in the eighth that provided the margin of victory.

GAME THREE AT CLEVELAND STADIUM - July 9, 1963, National League 5, American League 3

After four years as a double feature, the All-Star Game went to a single performance and saw the National League utilize its speed and gain its first Cleveland Stadium win, 5-3.

Willie Mays was easily the game's outstanding performer, going 1-for-3 with two RBI, two runs scored, two stolen bases, a walk and the game's most scintillating catch. 44,160 fans saw the action.

GAME FOUR AT CLEVELAND STADIUM - August 9, 1981, National League 5, American League 4

An all-time record All-Star Game crowd of 72,086 welcomed back baseball from the 50-day players strike and saw the National League edge the American 5-4. The 72,086 fans gave Cleveland the top three crowds in All-Star history.

Gary Carter clubbed two home runs, including a seventh inning solo shot to put the National Leaguers ahead to stay. Cleveland's Lenny Barker faced just six batters in his two innings of work, striking out one.

GAME FIVE AT JACOBS FIELD - July 8, 1997, American League 3, National League 1

Indians host the 68th Mid-Summer Classic for a record 5th time as Sandy Alomar hit a 2-out, 2-run homer off SF LHP Shawn Estes in the 7th inning, breaking a 1-1 tie. Alomar sent 44,945 fans home happy, becoming the first Indian ever to win an ASG MVP and the first player in MLB history to be named MVP in his home park.

Randy Johnson and Greg Maddux started the contest and a total of 14 pitchers were used. Edgar Martinez and Javy Lopez also homered in the game, which took just 2:36 minutes to play.

INDIANS IN THE HALL OF FAME

A total of 33 former players, managers and executives in the Hall of Fame spent some or part of their professional careers with the Cleveland Indians, including both 2011 BBWAA Inductees: Roberto Alomar spent three seasons in Cleveland from 1999-2001 and Bert Blyleven pitched for the Indians from 1981-85. Twelve Hall of Famers spent the majority of their careers in an Indians uniform, including Earl Averill, Lou Boudreau, Stan Covelesk, Larry Doby, Bob Feller, Elmer Flick, Addie Joss, Nap Lajoie, Bob Lemon, Joe Sewell, Tris Speaker and Early Wynn. For a complete list of Cleveland Indians in the Hall of Fame, visit the "Hall of Famers" team pages at www.baseballhall.org.

NOTABLE INDIANS ARTIFACTS IN COOPERSTOWN

- Jersey worn by Jim Thome for the 604th of his career and final home run of the 2011 season on Sept. 23rd.
- Bat used by Grady Sizemore to record the first grand slam and a ball signed by starter Cliff Lee, the first winning pitcher at new Yankee Stadium on April 16, 2009.
- Jersey from Cliff Lee, who tied for the big league lead in victories and won the American League Cy Young Award in 2008.
- Bat used by Kelly Shoppach on July 30, 2008, when he collected five extra-base hits in one game, a feat accomplished just one other time in American League history (Lou Boudreau, July 14, 1946).
- Jersey worn by Asdrubal Cabrera on August 10, 2007 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Larry Doby breaking the American League color barrier.
- Bat used by Ben Broussard on Aug. 12, 2004 to hit his second pinch-hit grand slam of the season, tying a major league record.
- Bat used by Jolbert Cabrera to hit the game-winning single against the Seattle Mariners on Aug. 5, 2001, which marked only the third time in major league history that a team overcame a deficit of 12 runs.
- Bat used by Manny Ramirez in 1998 to hit four home runs in four at-bats; ball from sixth home run in three games.
- Bat used by 1997 All-Star Game MVP Sandy Alomar, Jr. at Jacobs Field.
- Cap worn by Dennis Eckersley during his no-hitter on May 30, 1977.
- Ticket stubs from Games Three, Four and Five of the 1948 World Series at Municipal Stadium.
- Baseball from Bob Feller's April 16, 1940 Opening Day no-hitter.
- Autographed ball signed by Cleveland teammates Cy Young and Nap Lajoie from 1910.

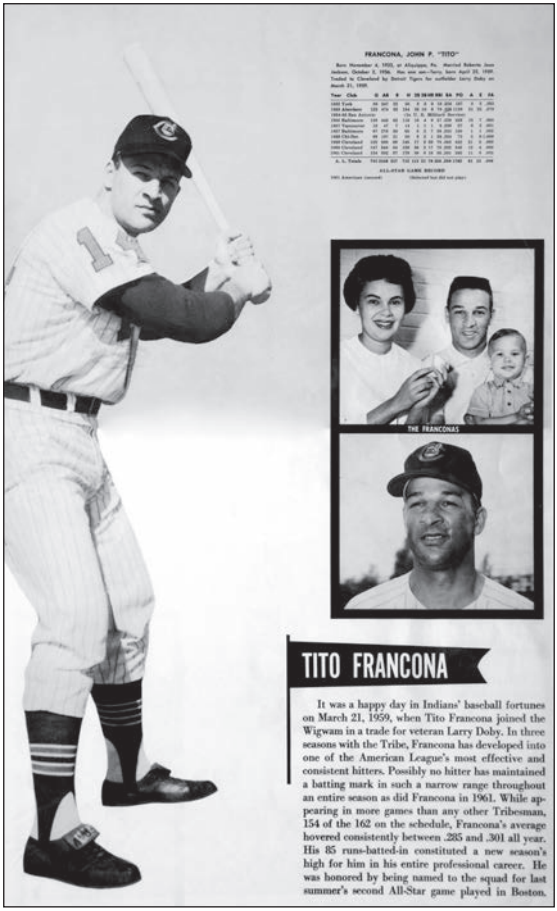
Miscellaneous



FRANCONA, JOHN P. "TITO"
ALL-STAR GAME RECORD
THE FRANCONAS
TITO FRANCONA
It was a happy day in Indians' baseball fortunes on March 21, 1959, when Tito Francona joined the Wigwam in a trade for veteran Larry Doby. In three seasons with the Tribe, Francona has developed into one of the American League's most effective and consistent hitters. Possibly no hitter has maintained a batting mark in such a narrow range throughout an entire season as did Francona in 1961. While appearing in more games than any other Tribesman, 154 of the 162 on the schedule, Francona's average hovered consistently between .285 and .301 all year. His 85 runs-batted-in constituted a new season's high for him in his entire professional career. He was honored by being named to the squad for last summer's second All-Star game played in Boston.

OTHER ALL-TIME TEAMS

Several all-time Indians teams have been chosen over the years. In 1951, an all-time team was chosen in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the American League.The players chosen for that team were: Hal Trosky (1B), Nap Lajoie (2B), Joe Sewell (SS), Ken Keltner (3B), Tris Speaker (OF), Earl Averill (OF), Joe Jackson (OF), Steve O'Neill (C), Cy Young (P), and Mel Harder (P). These players also comprised the first 10 inductees to the Cleveland Indians Hall of Fame.

INDIANS BROADCAST HISTORY

The early days of baseball play-by-play broadcasting in Cleveland were highlighted by change. Broadcasting legend Tom Manning, known for his field announcing at League Park, was heard over radio station WTAM from 1929-31 covering most home games. Ellis Vander Pyl started the 1932 season on WHK, but was quickly replaced by another broadcasting legend, former Tribe player Jack Graney. For the next decade, when Tribe baseball was on the air, Graney was at the mike. His noteworthy partners included Gil Gibbons, Pinky Hunter and Lou Henry. In 1945, no Cleveland baseball broadcasts were heard because of radio network committments. Permanent radio play-by-play of Indians games was established in 1946 when Bill Veeck purchased the team. Before the sale, no games were broadcast in 1946. Soon after the Veeck purchase, four stations carried the Tribe game of June 28, 1946 (Graney and Bob Neal on WGAR, Earl Harper on WJW, Don Campbell on WHK, and Manning on WTAM).

TRIBE BROADCASTERS

TOM HAMILTON, the "Voice of the Indians," will enter his 24th season of calling Cleveland Indians baseball games on radio in 2013. In his 23 seasons since 1990, Hamilton has called 68 postseason games for the Tribe from 1994-99, 2001 and again in 2007, including the 1995 and 1997 World Series'.

Hamilton is joined in the booth by Jim Rosenhaus, providing action and commentary for all 162 regular season games and 15 spring training contests on News Radio WTAM 1100, 100.7FM WMMS and the Indians Radio Network.

Tom came to the Indians after spending three seasons as a broadcaster for the AAA Columbus Clippers (1987-89), the top farm club of the New York Yankees. Previously, Tom worked in Milwaukee, Appleton, Watertown and Shell Lake, Wisconsin.

Some of his broadcasting credits include the University of Wisconsin football games, University of Colorado basketball games, the Appleton Foxes minor league baseball games and work for ABC radio. He is a five-time recipient of the Ohio Sportscaster of the Year Award (1997, 2000, 2001, 2004 and 2006). During the off-season, Tom does television basketball broadcasts for the Big Ten Conference on the Big Ten Network. In honor of his 20th season with the Indians, Tom was given the Cleveland Association of Broadcasters Hall of Fame Award for 2009.

Hamilton is a native of Waterloo, Wisconsin. He resides in Avon Lake, Ohio with his wife, Wendy. The Hamilton's have four children: Two boys, Nicholas and Bradley, and two girls, Kelsey and Katie. Nick recently graduated from Kent State University, where he was a key member of 2012 College World Series qualifying KSU Golden Flashes and was drafted and signed by the Indians last June.

2013 marks the seventh season for JIM ROSENHAUS as part of the Cleveland Indians radio broadcast team and his second teaming with Tom Hamilton on every game broadcast. During his time with the Tribe, Jim has served as the host of Indians Warm Up on the Indians Radio Network as well as the broadcast engineer and producer. This spring, Jim will once again provide the call on webcasts (Indians.com) of Indians baseball when the games are not heard on the Indians Radio Network.

Rosenhaus joined the Indians prior to the 2007 season after spending 11 years as the play by play voice of the Indians AAA affiliate, the Buffalo Bisons. Jim started his professional baseball broadcasting career with the Indians Single A affiliate in Kinston, NC. In addition to his baseball broadcasting work, Rosenhaus spent 11 years as the voice of the University of Buffalo men's basketball team.

In the baseball off season, Jim also works various televised events for SportsTime Ohio, including college and high school basketball, OHSAA football state playoffs and college and high school volleyball.

On July 24, 2011, Jim was inducted into the Buffalo Baseball Hall of Fame, along with former Indians and Bisons catcher, Tony Pena.

Jim resides in Bay Village, OH with his wife, Carole, and sons, Nathan and Cole.

BROADCASTERS AND WRITERS HONORED BY THE NBHOF

The equivalent of Hall of Fame induction for broadcasters and sportswriters is the Ford C. Frick Award and the J. G. Taylor Spink Award, respectively. Three individuals have been honored for their coverage of the Indians. Tribe play-by-play voice Jimmy Dudley received the Frick award in 1997. Gordon Cobbledick (1977) and Hal Lebovitz (2000) have been honored with the Spink award.

Former Tribe center fielder RICK MANNING returns for his 24th season as color commentator for Indians baseball telecasts, on SportsTime Ohio and on WKYC-TV.

He began his professional baseball career with the Cleveland Indians as the #1 selection in the 1972 June draft. The first 8 1/2 years of his 13-year major league career were spent in Cleveland (1975-1983), where he won a Gold Glove in 1976 for his fielding prowess. Manning was also selected as the BBWAA "Good Guy" award winner for the 1980 season.

Rick and his wife, Sue, reside in Scottsdale, AZ. He has two children, Kyle and Jessica, and five grandchildren.

MATT UNDERWOOD begins his 14th season as a broadcaster for the Cleveland Indians. 2013 will mark his 7th year in the TV booth calling play-by-play with partner Rick Manning. Previously he spent 7 seasons as a member of the Tribe radio broadcast team and 13 years as host of Indians Warm Up, the pregame show heard on the Cleveland Indians Radio Network.

Matt began his career with local ABC affiliate WEWS-TV5, where he spent 17 years and served as the station's sports director from 1997-2000. Underwood also calls play-by-play action for NCAA football on SportsTime Ohio.

The Ashland, OH native graduated from Baldwin-Wallace College in 1990. He is a member of both the Ashland County Sports Hall of Fame and the Baldwin-Wallace Radio Hall of Fame. Matt hosts an annual golf tournament to raise money for Team Focus, The Ashland County Cancer Association and the Sophia Underwood Memorial Scholarship Fund.

He currently resides in Avon Lake with his wife, Shelley. They have two children, Max and Devan.

AL PAWLOWSKI is slated to provide the play-by-play with Rick Manning for 10 games on SportsTime Ohio this year. He joined SportsTime Ohio in 2007 and currently serves as the host of Tribe pre-game show Indians On-Deck and is the co-host of The Tribe Report on STO.

A graduate of John Carroll University where he played baseball, Al also is the current play-by-play radio broadcaster for the Cleveland State men's basketball team. He has also appeared on ESPN and ESPN2 doing play-by-play for the MISL soccer as well as the Little League World Series in addition to sports anchoring for WKYC-TV3 since 2008.

Prior to joining STO he served as the radio/TV play-by-play broadcaster for the Cleveland Crunch/Force for seven seasons from 1998-2005 and was the Indians in park host/reporter at Jacobs Field from 1999-2006.

Al resides in Sagamore Hills with his wife, Jessica, and son, Chase.

THE FIRST TELECAST

The first local telecast of an Indians' game took place on May 15, 1948 as Cleveland met the White Sox in an afternoon game at Cleveland Municipal Stadium. The game was telecast on WEWS-TV, Cleveland's only TV station at the time. The announcer was Van Patrick.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

FIRST-YEAR PLAYER DRAFT

Major League Clubs meet once a year for the purpose of drafting high school, college, and junior college eligible players. High school players become eligible following completion of their senior year or after withdrawing from and remaining out of school for at least 365 days; college players become eligible following completion of their junior or senior years or if they are at least 21 years old and between school years; and junior college players become eligible following their freshmen or sophomore years.

Selection of a player in the first-year player draft (Thursday, June 6, 2013) entitles the Club to the exclusive right of negotiation with that player through July 12, the signing deadline, for all draft picks other than college seniors (or other players who have utilized all of their NCAA eligibility) for whom the Club has the exclusive right of negotiation for approximately one year.

If a first or second round draft pick (or a free agent compensation pick between the first and second rounds) does not sign by the July 12 signing deadline, the selecting Club receives a "same-slot" compensation pick in the next year's draft. If a third round pick does not sign, the selecting Club receives a sandwich pick between the third and fourth rounds in the next year's draft.

Clubs choose players in reverse order of Major League standings, and the draft concludes after 40 selection rounds, in addition to up to two compensation rounds—one following the first round and one following the third round. Approximate date of draft meetings: Summer (early June).

ASSIGNMENT REGULATIONS

- Major to Major: Waivers are required for any Major League assignment between August 1 and the day following the conclusion of the season. During the other ten months of the year, waivers are not required for assignments from one Major League Club to another.
- Major to Minor: A player may be optioned with right of recall to a Minor League Club for not more than three seasons, and waivers are only required if the date of assignment is three or more years after the date the player first reported to a Major League Club (less one year for each option charged prior to his first report date). If a player is optioned for less than 20 aggregate days in a season, that player is not charged with an option during that season. A Major League Club may also outright a player to a Minor League Club without right of recall, but waivers are required for all outright assignments to minor league clubs.

The procedure for assignment waiver requirements are as follows:

CLUB FROM/TO SEASON	31ST DAY OF SEASON TO 7/31	8/1 TO 8/31	9/1 TO LAST DAY OF SEASON	END OF SEASON TO 30TH DAY OF
ML to ML	NONE	Trade	Trade	NONE
ML to NA (opt)	Optional	Optional	Optional	Optional
ML to NA	Outright	Outright	Outright	Outright

There are four different types of waiver requests:

Trade Waivers, Optional Waivers, Outright Waivers (irrevocable), and Unconditional Release Waivers.

Outright Waivers (OR), Trade Waivers, and Optional Waivers expire at the end of the waiver period in which they were secured MLR 10 (a).

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS

A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

SAVE RULE

A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions: (1) he is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, (2) he is not the winning pitcher, (3) he is credited with at least 1/3 of an inning pitched (0.1IP) and (4) he qualifies under one of the following conditions: (a) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or (b) he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck (i.e., the potential tying run is either on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or (c) he pitched effectively in the last three innings.

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE

- Is credited for each day a player appears on an active roster or major league disabled or suspended list.
- In the case of a player called up from the minor leagues, is credited beginning with the date he physically reports.
- In the case of a major league player who is traded and reports in the normal course, service is not interrupted.
- In the case of a major league player sent down to the minor leagues, is credited through the date of the assignment.
- In the case of a player who is unconditionally released, is credited through the date waivers are requested.
- In the case of the player designated for release or assignment (MLR 2), is credited after the designation, through the date of the actual assignment or the request for unconditional release waivers.
- For a player who appears on his club's opening day roster, is credited as of the earliest scheduled opener, without regard to the actual opening date of his own club.
- Is credited at the rate of 172 days per "year," through the season is actually 183 days long
- Is not credited during any period or periods of optional assignment totaling 20 days or more during a single season.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROSTER LIMITS

The Major League Active Roster is limited to 25 players from opening day through August 31 except in the case of a doubleheader. Beginning in 2012, roster limits were expanded to 26 for any doubleheader except for a rescheduled split doubleheader when the doubleheader occurs on the day after the canceled game or a double header in which one game is the continuation of a suspended game. The active roster limit is 40 players from September 1 through the end of season. The maximum number of players on the Major League Reserve List is limited to 40.

DISABLED LISTS

- 15-Day Disabled List: There is no limit to the number of players on this list. Players on the 15-day DL count against Reserve List but not Active List. The minimum period of inactivity for a player on this list is 15 days.
- 60-Day Disabled List: There is no limit to the number of players on this list, but a player can only be placed on the 60-Day DL if the club's Reserve List is at the maximum limit of 40 players. Players carried on this list do not count against 40-man Reserve List limit. The minimum period of inactivity for a player on this list is 60 days, but if he is placed or transferred to the 60-Day DL after 8/1, the player must remain on the list through the end of post season.

BATTING-PITCHING QUALIFICATIONS

To qualify for the American League batting championship, a player must have 502 or more plate appearances. (This is equivalent to at least 3.1 for each of the 162 scheduled games.) Pitchers must work 162 or more innings to qualify for the earned run average title.

PINCH HITTER RULE

A player shall be considered a pinch hitter if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. (If the team bats around and a pinch hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch hitter during that second time up). A substitute hitter for a designated hitter is both a pinch hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate, he is a designated hitter only.

DESIGNATED HITTER RULE

A hitter may be designated to bat for the pitcher in any spot in the batting order in any game without affecting the status of the pitcher. The designated hitter must be selected and be included in the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in chief prior to the game. Failure to do so precludes the use of a designated hitter for that game. The designated hitter is "locked" into the batting order, but may be removed for a pinch-hitter or a pinch-runner, who in turn becomes the designated hitter. The designated hitter, while still in the game, may be used defensively but the pitcher then assumes the batting order of the replaced defensive player, thus terminating the designated hitter role.

DEFINITION OF A NIGHT GAME

Any game scheduled to start after 5:00PM will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 5:00PM and is delayed by rain, or for any reason, it will be considered a day game; if a game is scheduled to start at 5:01PM, it will be considered a night game. Twi-night doubleheaders shall be included in doubleheader statistics and shall be considered two night games for single-admission doubleheaders starting after 4:00PM. When afternoon and night games are played on the same date with separate admissions, the games shall be day and night and count as single games.

CONSECUTIVE GAME HITTING STREAKS

A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances (one or more) result in a base on balls, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit. The player's individual consecutive-game hitting streak shall be determined by the consecutive games in which the player appears and is not determined by his club's games.

HOW TO FIGURE

BATTING AVERAGE

Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats (i.e.Player A is 12-for-40 or .300).

SLUGGING PERCENTAGE

Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at-bats (i.e. Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage).

EARNED RUN AVERAGE

The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per game average (i.e. Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA).

FIELDING AVERAGE

The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors (i.e. Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952).

WON-LOST PERCENTAGE

Divide the number of victories by the total number of games played (i.e. 22 wins and 18 losses produce a winning percentage of .550).

ON-BASE PERCENTAGE

The sum of hits plus total bases on balls plus hit-by-pitches is divided by the sum of at bats plus total bases on balls, hit-by-pitches and sacrifice flies (Does not include being awarded first base on interference or obstruction).

MAGIC NUMBER

Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

OPS

OPS equals On-Base Percentage plus Slugging Percentage. OPS is a simple way to get an overall summary of a batter's production. It combines the two most important factors in offense - reaching base (OBP) and advancing runners (SLG), and as a result it tracks with very closely with runs scored, better than using just OBP or SLG by itself.

MEDIA RELATIONS DEPARTMENT

Tel: 216/420-4380, Fax: 216/420-4430

ADMISSION TO PROGRESSIVE FIELD

Media must enter the park through the Media Gate, located at the east corner of Gate A on Eagle Avenue, on the north side of the ballpark facing the arena.

CLUBHOUSES

The Indians' clubhouse and the visitors' clubhouse are located on the Service Level of the ballpark.

Pre-game: When the Indians hit outside prior to home games, the clubhouse will not re-open to the media after the conclusion of batting practice. For home games prior to which the Indians do not take batting practive outside, the clubhouse will close two hours prior to first pitch for night games and ninety minutes prior to first pitch for day games.

Post-game: Clubhouses will be open to working media with clubhouse credentials no later than ten minutes after the final out has been made.

Doubleheaders: In between games of a traditional DH the clubhouse will be closed to the media. However, the manager's office will be open. Clubhouse is open for 45 minutes between games of a "day/night" doubleheader.

CREDENTIALS

Credentials for access to Progressive Field will be issued to legitimate newsgathering agencies only. The Indians manage all credential requests through MLB's Club Credentialing System at credentials.mlb.com. Media outlets that do not currently have a profile in this system may contact the Indians Communications at 216-420-4380 for assistance. Requests must be made at least 24 hours in advance of the game date. Credentials must be picked up at Media Gate B (print, radio, on-air talent) or Employee Gate D (TV Crew). No credentials will be mailed.

FIELD

Properly credentialed media will be permitted on the field until one-half hour prior to game time. Media should enter the field through the gates located at the outfield side of the first and third base dugouts. Media must stay on the track surrounding the batting cage during batting practice. Photographers with field photo credentials will be permitted in the first and third base photo boxes during the game.

GAME NOTES

Game notes and statistics are available in the Press Box two hours prior to game time.

MEDIA GUIDES

Indians media guides and media guides of otherclubs (while supplies last) are available upon request in the press box.

PRESS BOX

Located in the center of the Press Suite Level. Take the Ontario Street Elevator to Level 4 (the Press Level). Enter through glass double doors and the Press Box entrance is the single door to the right.

PRESS CLUB

Located in the center of the Press Suite Level behind the Main Press Box.

Pre-game:The media dining room will be open two hours prior to the game until one hour after scheduled game time serving a full meal. Any credentialed media will have access to the Press Club at a cost of $10.00 per person. Call the Media Relations Department for more information.

During game: Beverages, along with some cold snacks, will be served at no cost throughout the game.

TELEPHONES

There are complimentary courtesy phones throughout the main press box that have access to 216, 440 and 330 local calls, in addition to toll free numbers.

If you need access to long distance, have specific broadcast needs or need the ability to receive incoming calls, you can order a telephone through AT&T. Please contact AT&T Business Office at (800) 480-8088. Please allow at least five days for them to have your line installed.

CLEVELAND INDIANS CHARITIES

Established in 1989, CLEVELAND INDIANS CHARITIES (CIC) is the self-sustaining charitable arm of the Cleveland Indians that concentrates on creative partnerships with select organizations that focus on youth education and recreation. Since its inception, CIC has donated nearly $9 million to youth-oriented agencies and organizations throughout Northeast Ohio. CIC has established and enhanced its relationships with several of these organizations, with the focus on the following beneficiaries and grant programs for 2013:

Cleveland Metropolitan School District: to provide funding for high school baseball and softball programs.

Boys & Girls Clubs of Cleveland: to provide educational outreach programs.

Cleveland Baseball Federation: to grow youth participation in baseball and softball by administering the Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI) and Rookie League, free of charge to youth.

Diamond Improvement Grant: to assist in league funding, programming and renovation of playing fields.

The relationships CIC maintains with these youth-service agencies provide the opportunity to jointly create, design and execute programs and activities. The result is programming which helps young people develop necessary life skills, learn responsibility and cooperation, and develop courage and confidence to face today's hurdles. CIC impacts over 20,000 children throughout Northeast Ohio on an annual basis.

The monies donated by CIC have been raised through a variety of fundraising activities that fans can get involved with. In addition, a significant portion of the total amount raised is through the generosity of Cleveland Indians players, coaches, front office and corporate partners. The Cleveland Indians organization and its players have a unique opportunity to make a positive impact on the youth of Northeast Ohio. It is an opportunity and responsibility we embrace.

25 YEARS OF GIVING

In 2013, CIC is celebrating its 25th year of serving the community. This notable anniversary will be celebrated at CIC events throughout the season. You can enable a child play baseball or softball this season with a donation to CIC's "Catch 25" Campaign – a special fundraising campaign in honor of CIC's 25th year. Donations are tax deductible. Help us continue to provide impactful opportunities to the underprivileged youth of Northeast Ohio by donating $25. For more information or to make your pledge, please visit www.indians.com/community.

How To Get Involved With CIC

Indians fans can help generate funds for CIC by participating in various fundraising initiatives spearheaded by CIC each season. In 2013, CIC will host the following events and programs:

CIC In-Park Auctions

Stop by the silent auction table on the main concourse behind home plate during Friday home games in the 2013 season. Place a silent auction bid on autographed baseballs, photos, bats, jerseys and more, including Experience Packages such as a Ceremonial First Pitch and watching Batting Practice.

Friday, April 26, Saturday, April 27, 2013 – CIC High School Hardball Classic

presented by NovaCare

Progressive Field will be the site of the 10th Annual CIC High School Hardball Classic. Twelve (12) area high schools will compete during the two-day event. Fans interested in attending the Hardball Classic can purchase a $5 ticket at any participating high school prior to the event or a $7 ticket at Progressive Field the day of the event. Visit www.indians.com/community for a complete list of participating schools.

Thur., June 20, 2013 – CIC Celebrity Golf Classic

This year's Celebrity Golf Classic will again be held at Quail Hollow Country Club. Spend the day golfing with Indians players, coaches, alumni and broadcasters. The day includes great gifts, prizes, breakfast, lunch, cocktail dinner party, live and silent auction and more. Individual registration, teams of five golfers and sponsorships are available.

Progressive Field Tours (April 30 – Sept. 7))

Experience a behind-the-scenes tour of Cleveland's crown jewel. Beginning April 30, 2013, visit areas of the ballpark including Home Dugout, Batting Cages, and Press Box. Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $5.50 for youths 14 and under and senior citizens 60 and over. Special School and Group Rates are available. Visit www.indians.com/community for complete schedule and pricing. Book your school or group tour today!

Round Up for Charity – Year Round

Round Up for Charity, available at Indians Team Shops and merchandise stands throughout Progressive Field, allows fans to "Round Up" their purchase total to the next dollar amount, with the difference donated to CIC. Round Up your next transaction at Progressive Field to assist CIC in providing baseball and softball opportunities for the youth of Northeast Ohio.

Please visit indians.com/community, or call 216.420.HITS for more information on any of the above programs.
